The end sheet of our book portrays the beauty of the feeling of our Jefferson students toward the magnitude of the heroic struggle in which our school's former students are playing so vital a part. The symbolic dome of Jefferson High School arises behind the two idealistic young people, whose eyes are seeing the glory portrayed in the war background. The rays of the Sun of Safety fall protectively across the inspired faces of the Jefferson boy and girl.

The cover of our book features the Great Seal of the United States of America and the seal of our Thomas Jefferson High School. The meaning is that our school is standing solidly behind our country in the "Schools at War" program.

CROSSING THE BAR

"Sunset and evening star,
  And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
  When I put out to sea,

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
  Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
  Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
  And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
  When I embark;

For though from out our bourne of Time and Place
  The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
  When I have crossed the bar."

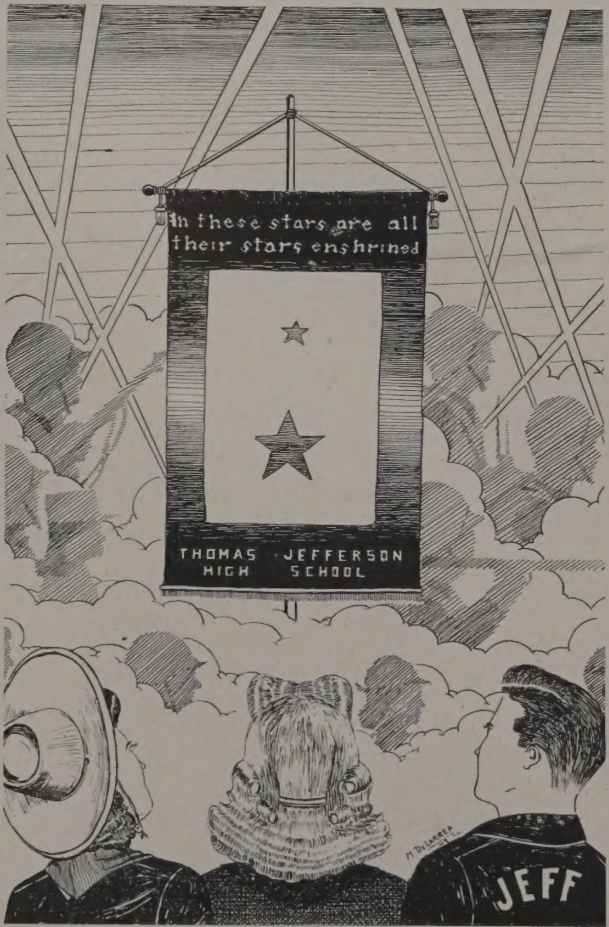
Dedication

To you, former students of Thomas Jefferson High School, who are now serving our country in the Armed Forces, we reverently dedicate this 1945 Monticello. Wherever you may be, whether cutting through steaming jungles of some far-flung Pacific isle or crushing through the Axis-infested ground of Europe, whether you are on foreign soil or in foreign air or on foreign waters, each one of you is defending Old Glory, far above and far beyond the call of duty. You are the boys who, so short a while ago, struggled as a team to bring shining victory to our school. Now Salerno, Aachen, Leyte, Tarawa, Normandy, Iwo-Jima — all these are victories for you men who have lettered on a greater fighting team for a greater coach, Uncle Sam. In a happier day you upheld Jefferson's glory. Now you are fighting for the greatest goal of all; you are upholding America's greatness. Now the stakes are life and death, and we, the students of Jefferson, are going all out to support you. Yes, Jefferson, too, is at war, and Jefferson is with you in this war until the moment of final victory.



In these stars are all their stars enshrined

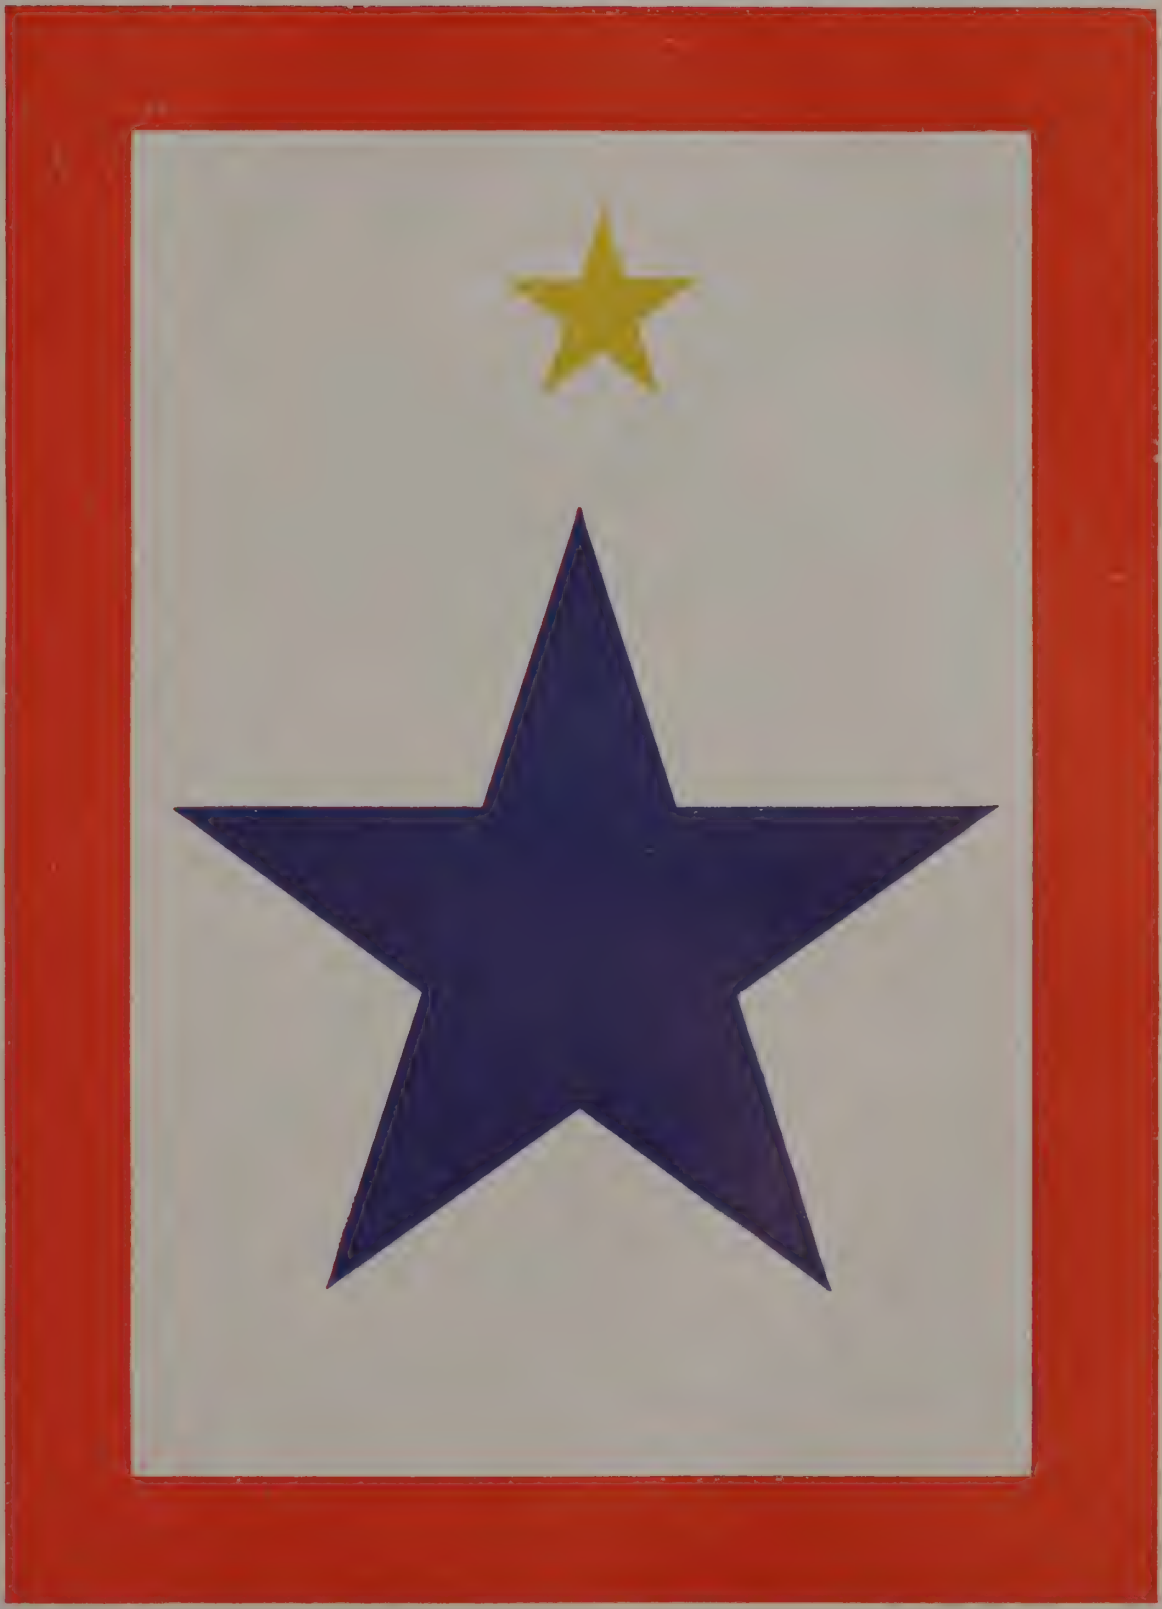
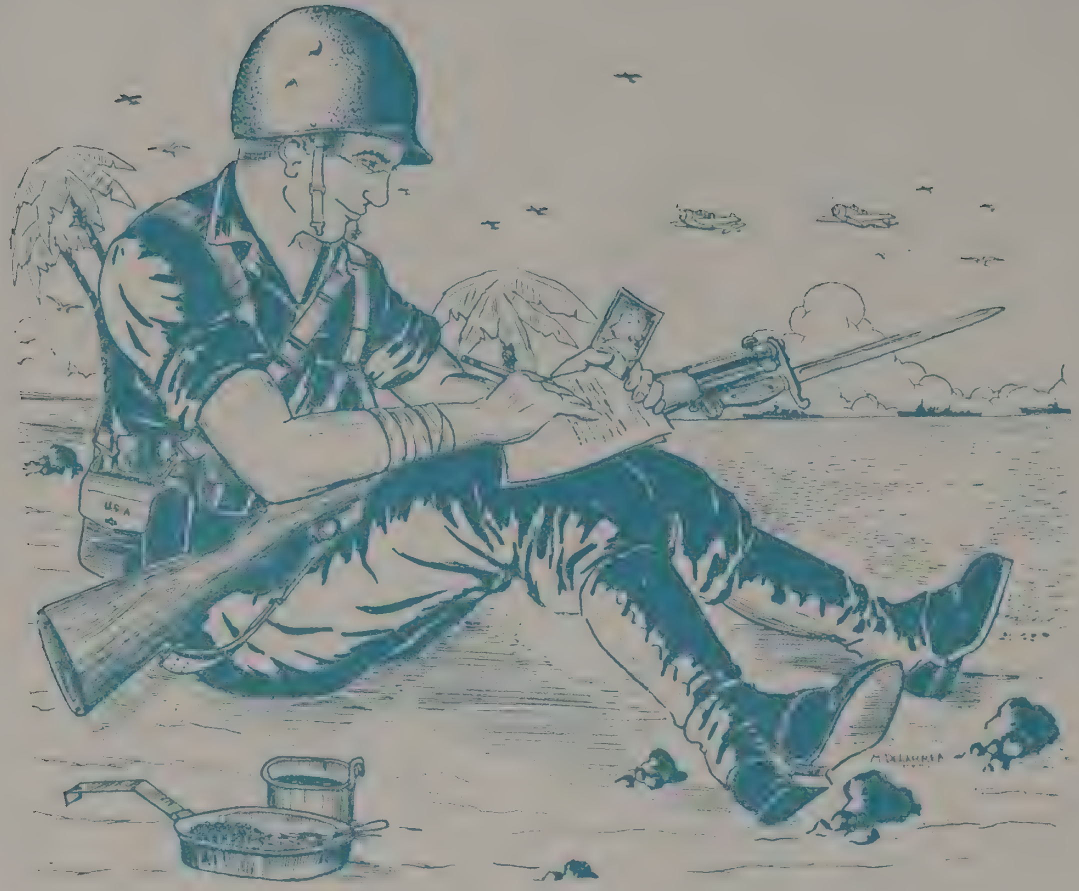
* * *

Infinitely more than the blue and red and gold of Our Service Flag is the meaning of that silken banner to our students in Jefferson. To us it is a symbol of all that means America. In its shining beauty we see the sheer loveliness of courage and sacrifice, almost too beautiful for us to comprehend. Dauntless men and women, youthful but unafraid in the face of grim danger—you, the blue star in our banner, will come home again to us. Our souls are bowed with awe and happiness at your returning. To "those others—your brothers that softly tread"—the gold star of our silken banner, we must dedicate our lives to the beauty of your sacrifice; your immortal deeds will be a challenge to us forever.



Within these stars are all their stars enshrined.



After four and one-half years of war, but with "complete victory certain and, perhaps, very near," our great Nation holds a far richer, far more vital, meaning for us than ever before. At a very crucial time in our Nation's life we have spent our high school years learning the sacred privilege of being young Americans, all of us eager to play a part in this world crisis. We are deeply grateful to those millions of others, many of whom are not so much older than we, who are serving our Country so valiantly all over the globe—in the air, on the land, and on the sea. In that great throng of heroes and heroines there are thousands whose happy laughter has rung out in these stately Jefferson halls, who have sat in these friendly Jefferson classrooms, who have brought shining honor and glory to Jefferson in this war as they once did in their student days here. We want them to know that we are strongly behind them one hundred per cent, that their beloved school is now truly a "Jefferson at War."

And so—we have chosen for our theme the idea of these splendid young people remembering us as we remember them, the idea of their still loving the memory of their days in Jefferson and actually writing us letters from their far-away stations. We have loved the carrying out of this theme; it has strongly affected our feeling toward these splendid young Americans. May you also, fellow students, feel more deeply that reverence for our Jefferson men and women in the war and try more often than ever before to reach your loved ones and your friends with letters from dear old Jefferson.

Somewhere in the Philippines

Dear Joe and Judy Jefferson,

You'll never know how much your letters mean to me. Today you told me of your visit to the office of Assistant Superintendent Portwood. That must have been inspirational for your staff to have been received so graciously by him and for you to have had his approval of your plans to portray, in your Monticello, Jefferson's part in the Schools at War program, of which he is the director. It was wonderful of Superintendent Stutsman to invite you into his office that day and to say such lovely things to you about the kind of citizens and school patrons he hopes you will be some day. You simply must live up to his faith in you. * * * * That visit of yours reminds me very strongly of the visit of our 1943 Staff to the office of General Krueger two years ago. That day I had the premonition that I was in the presence of a very great man. Sure enough, very, very soon after that visit General Krueger began his great work in the Pacific! And now here I am, part of that great general's army in the Philippines, over here with the big guns pounding, the big bombs falling, and the enemy running faster and faster and farther and farther back toward his "rising sun." On that day in the General's office how could I have known that I would some day be a part of his plan to help the great MacArthur return to the Philippines. I'm proud of the part I'm playing * * * You'll hardly be a part of the war because I think, like the great Churchill — "Victory lies before us — certain and perhaps near," but you will be a very important cog in the peace. Play well your part, Joe and Judy, not only in your splendid war work now but also later in the glorious and happy days of peace. * * * The bombers have come up and the fighters scream against the surf-beat of the guns. I'm over here where there's still a war to be won, but I may be home sooner than anyone dreams.

Mr. Raymond W. Arnold

Vice-Principal and Dean of Boys

As a symbol of the friendship for which Jefferson is striving, Mr. Raymond W. Arnold, Vice-Principal and Dean of Boys, is truly a living example. His friendship, dependability, tolerance, and understanding have qualified him as one of our capable leaders. Not only is he an efficient organizer, but he is also an unselfish leader and an inspiration to every student. His qualities of fellowship and capability are essential parts of our school life. Mr. Arnold, your untiring efforts in our behalf will be remembered always.

Miss Frances Smith

Dean of Girls

Fortunate indeed are students who come within the scope of Miss Smith's influence. True friendship, a delightful sense of humor, service — these qualities are the very essence of our Dean of Girls. The lightning-like efficiency with which she handles our problems is a marked contrast to the calm, quiet serenity of her office. After a conference with Miss Smith one departs with the feeling of having gained something of great value. There exists no better friend to our school than our genial, kind, lovable Miss Smith.

T. GUY. ROGERS.

PRINCIPAL.

Holding a safe place in all our hearts, our principal, Mr. T. Guy Rogers, is an invaluable friend as well as a trusted leader. Throughout the fourteen years of Thomas Jefferson High School's existence students have come to love and admire him for what he is: good, generous, serene, unperturbed, understanding. Imbued with strong cultural influence and a very rare sense of humor, qualities which rank high in the eyes of Jefferson students, he will be remembered always for his enriching influence on the life and beauty of our beloved school as well as on the lives and happiness of all Jefferson students in his care.

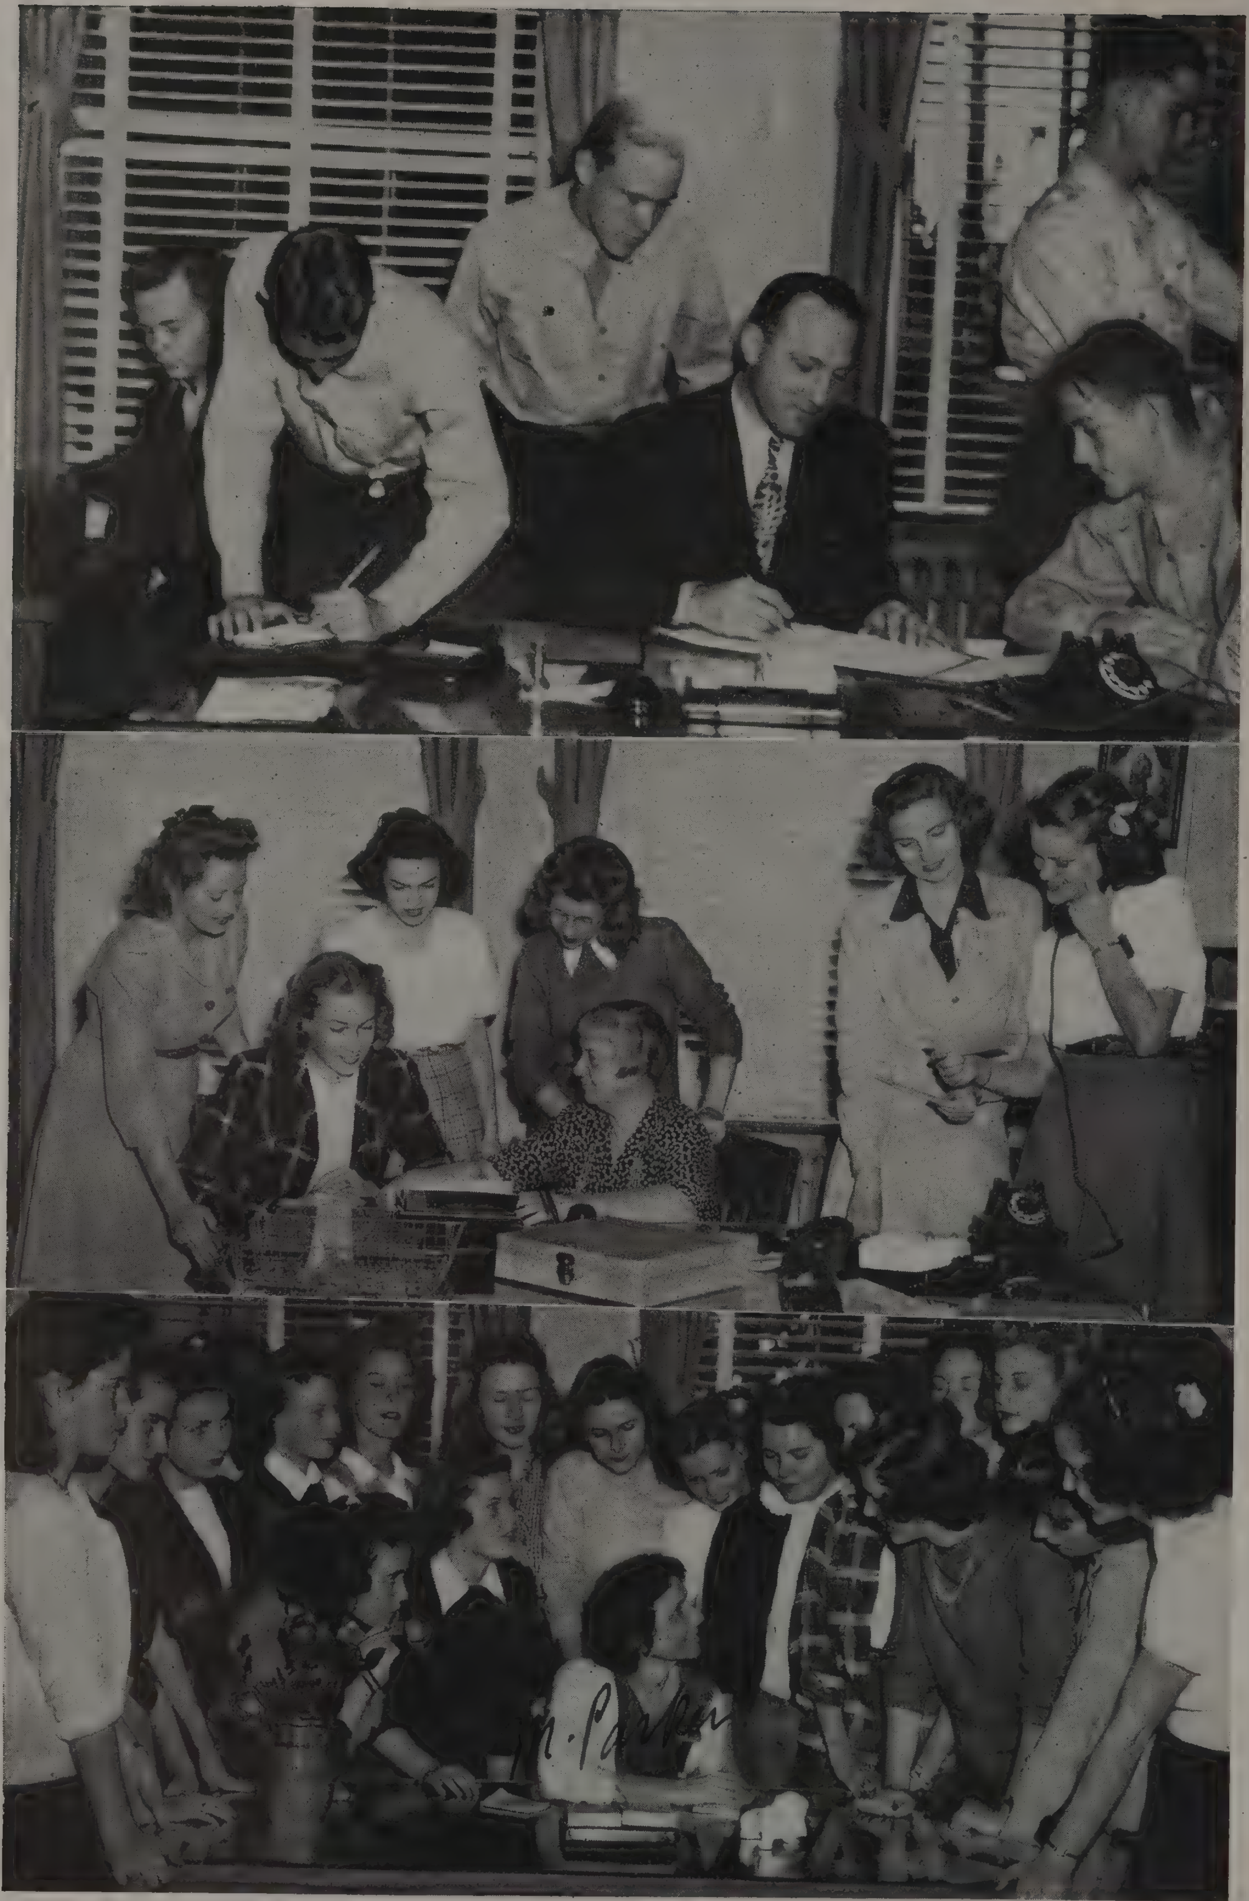
VALUABLE • EXPERIENCE •



There will be many opportunities in the world of tomorrow for boys and girls who have had previous experience in the various offices of the school. (Upper) In the office of Vice-Principal Arnold, the Dean of Boys, these willing workers are gaining valuable office experience. (Center) These girls in the office of Miss Smith, Dean of Girls, have been taught many important duties of a secretary, such as answering the telephone correctly and working with reports. (Lower) One of the important things to be practiced in the post-war world is that of listening to instructions carefully and of carrying them out faithfully, such as is done by students in Mrs. Parker's attendance office, where many student assistants are needed for service.

Two of the Evaluative Criteria committee meetings: (left) Miss Hughes, Miss Pearl West, Miss Murray, Mr. Taliaferro, Miss Wolf, Miss O'Neil, and Miss McFarland; (right) Miss Perez, Miss O'Neil, Miss McFarland, Mrs. Campbell, Dr. Bolman (Director), Vice-Principal Arnold, Miss Huey, and Mr. May. Our faculty very seriously went through the intricacies of this Evaluative Criteria program. All teachers were members of committees; each committee functioned earnestly throughout the year and made its report to a general faculty meeting. On April 11, 12, and 13 the Visitation Committee visited our school and made their reports on the evaluation.

Somewhere in the Army of Occupation

Dear Joe and Judy Jefferson,

* * Today I had a real front row seat. I could look straight down with nothing between me and the earth below but a thin film of glass and five miles of thin air. I know now what this war's about. That was no joy-ride today.* * Over the intercom, I could hear Jack's voice, and though it was way below zero, my palms were clammy and the pit of my stomach was sinking and I knew — the Jerrys were coming in. I picked out the one coming down on our plane and the spray of his tracers drummed on our ship like thunder. Then our guns went into action and we let him have it. A wing fell off—he started to smoke and soon down he went—a flaming torch lighting the evil below—the evil that must be stamped out no matter what. * * * We were outnumbered six to one today. Anything could happen—we knew that. But it was our job, and it had to be done. After what seemed an eternity we came out on top, even though we were badly crippled, and we were free to continue our mission. We kept flying—flying, hoping—praying our injured ship could make it. But seeing Schikelgruber's oil fields go up in smoke and flame, his factories become a mountain of rubble and smoke, is a gratifying reward for those moments of tenseness. * * Our prayers were answered—we returned once more to our base. Back here with our mission accomplished and the roar of guns and bombs fading and faint in our ears—back here I remember now your writing me about that day at Kelly Field when you dedicated the training plane your War Stamps and War Bonds had bought. How proud you must have felt as you saw your plane rise gracefully into the blue! I know a little part of you went up with that plane that day, and I know it will stay there until we've all come home. * * * I remember my graduation day at Kelly Field, only five days after that tragic Pearl Harbor. How proud I was of the Jefferson crew there to do us honor, twenty or more of you. * * * Keep Jefferson beautiful, Joe and Judy. Keep its school spirit alive. Win its battles. Bring it honor. Some day, when peace comes back to this world, you'll be glad that you played a fine, strong part during this war.

ROLL CALL

Representative groups from Thomas Jefferson High School visit Kelly Field to attend the ceremony dedicating "The Spirit of Thomas Jefferson," the plane bought by the school's War Bond and War Stamp purchasers.

History of the Class of 1945

The members of the Class of 1945 began their activities early in September with the election of a fine group of class officers. The Senior Frolic on December 14 was a grand success due to the hard work of the actors and to the coaching of Miss Ximena Wolf and Miss Marguerite Perez. The skit modernized King Arthur's Court; following it were musical numbers and an exhibition dance. A new feature was added by casting a sophomore and a junior. Another new idea was ending on a serious note. Climaxing the show were the songs of four big wars followed by the finale in which the whole cast came on the stage to sing "The Victory Polka." The Christmas dance, given the following night, was very successful because it was the first hall dance to be given in several years. The floor show put on by Jean William Brown was met with hearty approval; Mike Manuppelli, dressed as Santa Claus, drew a laugh from everyone. In February the seniors had their first class meeting and chose the class motto, "Semper coniuncti in meditatione et animo." (Always together in thought and spirit); their colors, blue and silver; their flower, red carnations. In March the seniors sponsored a successful stamp drive. They also helped to keep the school clean by posting guards at the cafeteria doors to remind new students not to eat in the halls. On May 18 the Senior Play, "Spring Green," a comedy, was received very favorably by the school. Seniors finally checked in their books on May 23. Class Day and the lovely theater party on the following day were enjoyed by everyone. The Junior-Senior prom on May 25 will live long in seniors' memories. The Commencement Sunday services were held on May 27; all of us felt the solemnity. Finally graduation, on May 31, with smiles and tears ended a delightful senior year.

History of the Class of 1946

Early in October the Class of 1946 was organized under the very capable leadership of Miss Julia Oliphint and Miss Mamie A. Brawner...In November the Junior Class decided to do something new and unusual—to present for the first time a junior play...Juniors tried out for parts they liked; a cast was selected and they went to work immediately...The juniors decided in January to sponsor the paper drives for Jefferson and use the money to buy magnolia trees to plant on the northeastern part of the campus...The clubs supported this project willingly...The teachers also co-operated by asking their classes to save all waste paper for the drive...Committees were appointed to meet in the paper shack on certain mornings to tie up paper...It was decided to have a regular dedication ceremony when the trees were planted...The president was asked to make a dedication speech...In April juniors piled into buses and went out for a grand outing...Under the splendid direction of Miss Ethel K. Orrell the junior play was presented on May 11...On May 25 the Junior-Senior prom was a successful event; the juniors surprised and delighted everyone by having the dance in our library...The decorations were unusual and the beautiful evening dresses of the girls, with the soft lights and music of a well known San Antonio orchestra, made the night perfect...On May 31 juniors assisted at the Senior Commencement exercises by decorating the stage for the commencement and serving as ushers for the graduation sermon and the commencement exercises...

M. DELAPPEA PV.R

On September the eighth the new sophomores were welcomed to Jefferson with an assembly at which Principal T. Guy Rogers, Vice-Principal Raymond Arnold, and Miss Frances Smith, Dean of Girls, spoke...The student leaders of the school were also present to welcome the new students...Diligent study as a necessity for good grades was stressed by all of the speakers...Miss Smith urged the students to attend school regularly, as a good attendance shows up well on the records...This year the Sophomore Honor Society was organized for all sophomores making no grade less than "B"...Ninety-four students were eligible to be charter members; they were admitted to the society in an impressive assembly on January 26...The entire school was proud of this showing, for not more than sixty students were expected to win the award...The committee which nominated the officers of the class was chosen by a group of sophomore representatives elected from each advisory; they made a ballot from which the sophomores elected their officers...There was great excitement in the advisories on election day as each sophomore voted for his choice... All knew that any project which the class might decide to undertake would be sure to be a great success because of the outstanding students in the class...

Somewhere on Leyte

Dear Joe and Judy Jefferson,

Lying here in this field hospital it seems far away—like a nightmare, but always I'll hear the whining bullets and the high, faint droning of planes—circling, circling. Always I'll feel sweat trickling down, ice water chilling my spine. * * * Our orders were to take that pill box—no matter how—and take it we did. They managed to keep one gun going, and its bullets swept the beach. But we knew we had to take that pill box; it was either our lives or theirs. We crept along, crawled along, inched along. Then somebody taked and drew their fire and in I went. I put both grenades through the slit of the pill box, but I held the one in my right hand a little too long. That's how I reached this field hospital. * * * Somehow, I never thought I'd go home so soon, that I'd be in the same boat with those fellows out at Brooke General Hospital so soon. * * * I will never forget those many field trips we Jeff students made out to Brooke General Hospital last year. It was Christmas time when the Latin Club went. About twenty of us visited the wards, our arms piled high with brightly-wrapped packages. It brought a tug to our hearts to see how pleased those young veterans were with our remembrances. I remember our singing Christmas carols around the piano. I remember the Christmas tree. The grateful smiles as we passed from bed to bed were beautiful to see. * * * Sometime soon, Joe and Judy, peace will come to this warring world. Make that peace worthy of all the tears, the blood, the long years of sacrifice! Make it a lasting peace where the power of men and women working together to destroy can become the power to work together to create—where the power to rub cities out can become the power to put new cities up. Make that peace one that will give to every man a boundless opportunity to dream—to work—to grow—to make his life what he wishes it to be. Joe and Judy, help to keep America forever the land of opportunity, the land of the four freedoms, the "sweet land of liberty."

George

This year, departing from our usual custom of showing you the work done in the Annual office, the Staff will take you on three field trips, but first (1) we must get more than 1100 of you properly photographed. (2) At the Southwestern Engraving Company Mr. Clyde W. Naftzger demonstrated the running of a galley proof. That day we saw every phase of the making of zinc etchings and copper plates. (3) Mr. William Clegg himself was our gracious guide over the entire Clegg Company plant, where we were shown every step of the printing procedure. (4) At the Universal Bookbindery Mr. Art Soucek showed us the complicated process involved in the making of an Annual cover. Producing your book for you was a real joy because, through these field trips, we now understand how much the engraver, the printer, and the bookbinder mean to a staff in the production of an annual.

JEFFERSON DECLARATION was rated first in the United States in the National Scholastic Press Association contest . . . It was also selected as one of the best papers in Texas, thus earning the right to enter the Interscholastic League Press Conference contest in the University of Texas . . No other high school in Texas won so much as the Declaration in the Quill and Scroll division of the National Scholastic magazine contest last May . . . Dick Portwood won $25 for being the best high school sports writer in the United States for the second time and became eligible for a $500 scholarship in journalism in any university in the nation . . . In the Scholastic magazine contest Mary Jo Sawyer was selected as best editorial writer, Betty Ingram as best writer of interviews, and Charles Mitchell Barbossa as best feature writer in Texas . . . Three journalists—Betty Chapman, Wolford Compton, and Dan Collie—won the right to have poems printed in the Texas Anthology of High School Poetry, printed by the National High School Poetry Association . . .

ARCHITECTURAL CLUB was established in 1932 to promote the study of architecture and to further good fellowship among members... The charter and present sponsor is Mr. Leon E. Taliaferro, a true friend to his boys... The club colors, blue and white, express the loyalty of this club, which meets every Thursday in the architectural drawing room... Successful outings and field trips are held on week-ends... The club project is the gathering of exhibit material for the department and building model houses for display... Members help the war effort by buying War Stamps and preparing themselves to become good citizens... Their memories center around the week-end outing on the Medina River, where swimming, hiking, fishing, and games were enjoyed to the utmost... Another spring week-end outing will long be remembered... Field trips through the new Woodlawn Theater and the classic Scottish Rite Cathedral to observe and to study the plans, construction, and architectural design of each featured the spring term interests... In the late spring the Club's display of stamp designs featuring famous buildings drew school-wide attention...

★ Future Homemakers of America ★

THE ELLEN H. RICHARDS CLUB received its charter in 1934, the charter and present sponsor being Miss Marguerite McFarland, teacher of homemaking. . . The club, with its cool green and white colors, was named for Mrs. Ellen H. Richards, first president of the American Home Economics Association. . . This year the club affiliated with the American Home Economics Association; many of the members are now wearing the attractive pin, the Betty Lamp, a symbol of learning. . . The membership is for all students who are interested in the homemaking department. . . Refreshments are served at every meeting. . . The club emphasis this year was on war work, the members making cookies for the hospital. . . In December the girls enjoyed making candy. . . They look forward each year to the fun that they have in the laboratory making fondant, fudge, penuchi, and lollypops. . . In February some of the members of the club and some of the girls in the homemaking classes were hostesses at a tea honoring the P.T.A. and the faculty. . . The members think hikes, fries, and picnics are good fun. . . They enjoyed several meetings this spring out of doors. . .

EDISON SCIENCE CLUB was organized in 1932 by Mr. H. Y. May, the present sponsor . . . It has continued as an active, cooperative school organization ever since . . . Purpose of the club is to provide an opportunity for students to investigate all fields of science and to give an outlet for scientific hobbies . . . Programs included visits to industrial plants, the weather bureau, and caves near San Antonio . . . The project this year is to provide a science exhibit case, the exhibit to consist of the hobbies and experiments of the club members . . . In October Richard Irving Alterman explained "What Makes a Geyser Geyse;" Katherine Louise Waugh explained volcanic fundamentals . . . In January Alvin Breit made an interesting report on "Fairy Tale Giants May Have Been Real" . . . Mr. May explained some projects that could be undertaken by the members, and the club voted that a suggestion box be conveniently placed so that ideas might be contributed . . . In January the club decided to present demonstrations, talks, skits, dialogue, and chemical magic in an assembly . . . At the May meeting members wished friends who were leaving the best of luck . . .

THE EUCLIDEAN MATHEMATICS CLUB was originally the Pythagorean Math Club organized at old Main Avenue High School in 1924...The club was reorganized in Thomas Jefferson High School in 1932 by a group of young mathematicians, taking opportunity to become better acquainted with the rich field of supplementary material...Under the able guidance of their charter sponsor, Mrs. Helen M. Bolton, students have enjoyed being grouped with others with the same interest... The Math Club has gone steadily forward, the work of the group culminating each year with a competitive mathematics test, the club presenting to the pupil scoring the highest grade the much coveted Math Key which is presented at Senior Class assembly...In May of 1944 this honor was won by Walter Wolff ...The club took its name from Euclid, the "Father of Geometry," a Greek geometer of about 300 B.C., who wrote the first and the most famous textbook on geometry that has ever appeared...Members meet every other Tuesday after school ...This year the purchasing of War Bonds and War Stamps and the collecting of paper and magazines have been the war project...Math Club members have loyally supported their the Fine Arts Society was reorganized under the laws of the National Fine Arts Society and received its National Charter . . . In December happy members constructed colorful Christmas tree ornaments out of non-priority materials for the attractive Army-Navy Room at St. Mark's Episcopal Church . . . The club was honored in January with the opportunity to be conducted through the studios and art galleries of the San Antonio Art Institute by Mr. Olin Travis and Mrs. McNay . . . February brought another interesting project; the members made appropriate Easter cards and posters for the lonely and homesick boys at Brooke General Hospital . . . In March members held their meeting at Witte Museum; afterwards they went to Brackenridge Park, where they enjoyed hot-dogs and Coca-Colas . . . Then such games as baseball, touch football, cops and robbers, hide-and-go-seek were indulged in by gay, smiling girls and energetic boys . . . All members of this club look with admiration at the work of past members now in the world of art . . . Sponsor and members look forward to next year, hoping to make it as successful as this one has been . . .

GIRL RESERVES CLUB is an affiliate of the Y.W.C.A.; it is a senior high school organization that follows the principles of the Y.W.C.A. and is a reserve, training girls to be future leaders in the association. . . It was toward Christian ideals that the club was organized in 1932 . . . The Girl Reserves are now nationally known; a member automatically becomes a junior member of the Y.W.C.A. . . . The club's loyal sponsor is Mrs. Lloyd. . . The club colors are blue and white, which are emphasized on the club pins. . . Every second and fourth Tuesday the club meets in Room 131; there members discuss various undertakings that the club accepts. . . To move toward the goal of helping wherever they can, the Girl Reserves went to Brooke General Hospital to cheer the wounded men; they took cookies, magazines, and joke books, which they had made. . . During the Christmas holidays they took a large cake to the U.S.O.; it was greatly appreciated, and they enjoyed giving it. . . In the home of Jean Egger a social was enjoyed in January. . . All members of the organization are proud to be junior members of the Young Women's Christian Association. . .

JEFFERSON HI-Y was re-established in November, 1944, with Major E. Reniker as sponsor, a former Hi-Y group having been organized in 1932. . . Purpose of the Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout school and community high standards of Christian character. . . The name Jefferson Hi-Y comes from combining and abbreviating Jefferson High School and Y. M. C. A. . . . The "H" in Hi-Y stands for Him (Christ). . . The "Y" stands for you (the other fellow). . . The small "i" stands for the individuals who make up the Hi-Y, and the "-" between the "i" and the "Y" stands for His task yet incomplete on earth. . . The Hi-Y project for this year was the sponsoring of a city-wide tin drive; the collection was carried on with the aid of enlisted personnel from the Ft. Sam Houston Redistribution Center, assisted by an enthusiastic group of Jefferson's own boys. . . The collection served a two-fold purpose: it secured tin, which is vitally needed for the making of blood plasma containers, and the revenue received from the sale of this tin was given to the Red Cross blood bank. . . The Hi-Y is a real power for good in Jefferson. . .

THE THOMAS JEFFERSON GIRLS' GLEE CLUB was organized in 1934 to provide musical entertainment for the school, churches, and the community . . . The first sponsor, the late Mr. Francis de Burgos, named the club Girls' Glee Club after much serious thought . . . Meetings are held every day at the regular class period . . . The club has taken on the important task of providing entertainment for the Armed Forces, by which they are helping to win the war . . . At these camp appearances the curtain goes up, sweet young voices ring out, and the Girls' Glee Club again delights and thrills a spellbound audience of men in uniform . . . By keeping up the morale of the men in the hospitals, the girls are comforting people in time of stress and worry by singing to them . . . Through many hours of practice the Nightingales of Jefferson cannot help but achieve high honors . . . The club was honored with the opportunity of singing at the Rotary Club convention at the St. Anthony Hotel . . . The club has also sung for the Jefferson P.T.A. meetings and the city-wide council of P.T.A.'s . . . The girls actually belong to the Federated Music Clubs and send a delegate to all meetings . . . On Parents' Night the Glee Club was heard with Jaimie Alice Hickman as soloist, and the girls were received with much enthusiasm . . . The lovely soloists for the army camp appearances were Mary Jane Parker, Ruth Sawyer, and Jaimie Alice Hickman . . . Under the capable sponsorship of the Glee Club, the Denton A-Capella Choir gave a delightful program in our auditorium, on which program Marjorie McClung, former Glee Club member, sang "The Lord's Prayer," aided by the choir . . . Singing for so many audiences has made it hard for the club to have a variety of numbers to sing for each occasion . . In the spring the Glee Club presented "Trial by Jury," the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta . . . The music under the direction of Mr. Zoeller added much to the program . . . The club collects dues, which are used in the spring for a luncheon in honor of the graduating seniors . . . The Glee Club's uniforms, a symbol of their club, are white shoes and solid white dresses, with gathered skirts, bearing tiny blue notes on the material . . . The club's contribution to the school and to war service is very commendable.

THE HAYNE DEBATING SOCIETY, the oldest boys' club in Texas, was established in 1892 at the old Main Avenue High School. . .The name is taken from Robert Young Hayne, an American statesman of the 1830's. . .The club moved to Jefferson High School in 1932 with the opening of the new school; it kept its colors, red and white, and its insignia, the well known quill and scroll. . .The Haynes are now under the able sponsorship of Mr. G. C. Daniel. . .Hayne is one of the many Wednesday clubs; meetings are held every week in the teachers' cafeteria. . .As the club decided in 1932 to help maintain the stage as its project, it has ever since then been buying stage equipment and decorations. . .When our country entered the present war, the members voted unanimously to put all money earned into War Bonds, to be used at the close of the war for the purchase of pictures of famous men; these pictures will be used to beautify Jefferson's class rooms. . .In many other ways the members have furthered the war effort. . .Hayne members assisted in scrap metal drives; time, energy, and cars were devoted to "getting in the scrap" . . . Members also aided greatly in the waste paper campaigns. . .Wounded soldiers were entertained by the Hayne Debating Society. . .At the first has so completely dominated the sports picture in Jefferson... Amid cheers from members, new officers took charge in January and showed a determination that will keep the Hayne on top ... The club presented a beautiful trophy to the Jeff Forum, winner of the Intra-mural Track Meet...Hayne members, in a move to speed up Allied victory, joined in to help in the city-wide tin-can-drive, sponsored by the Hi-Y...Students flocked from near and far to attend the annual Hayne dance; during the dance the club's mascots were presented with Hayne pins...Members flocked to New Braunfels for their yearly outing on April 21; Haynes spent three enjoyable days forgetting about responsibilities...The Haynes, along with the other boys' clubs, gave the annual Boys' Tri-Club dance in the gym in May...The year has been a fine one for the Hayne Debating Society, and its members were sorry to see it close... Before they left, some never to return, they elected a new president for the next term...During the year the club and its members had done much to help the war effort...Fine boys had done outstanding work, had grown in popularity and spirit...

EUTERPEAN MUSICAL SOCIETY was established in 1932 by the charter sponsor, Mr. Francis de Burgos, its purpose being to create a greater interest in music among all of the students . . . Representing Jefferson in the District Musical Festival were Esther Garcia, Ruth Jean Scharlack, Angelica Garza, Irvin Block, and Eva Solis . . . Esther Garcia and Ruth Jean Scharlack won first division for piano solos . . . In the spring the society visited a local army hospital to entertain the wounded soldiers . . . A social to welcome the Yuletide was held at the home of Ruth Jean Scharlack . . . Sponsored by the Euterpeans, the San Antonio Symphony Orchestra played in the Jefferson auditorium; later the Euterpeans served coffee and cake . . . The Euterpeans enjoyed a picnic at Brackenridge Park; motor boat rides, horseback rides, and good food provided thrills . . A visit to the zoo and Sunken Gardens completed the day's enjoyment . . . At club meetings members discuss composers' greatest works, play records of great musicians' well known compositions, and learn to appreciate great music under the capable direction of their valued sponsor, Mr. Jerome Zoeller . . .

"J" CLUB! Down comes the gavel; talking ceases as the club's first president, Bill Grooms, calls the meeting to order . . . Newest club in Jefferson, "J" Club was organized in October, 1944 . . . Its colors, red and blue, are representative of Jefferson . . . Every letterman since 1932 is an inactive member . . . No initiation is held, for the boys sacrifice enough already, working in sports, earning their cherished letters . Object is to promote better understanding in athletics . . . Main project was the sponsorship of the Intramural Track Meet on February 8 and 9, with the three Wednesday boys' clubs participating . . . Only two individual prizes were awarded—one for the outstanding athlete of the year, another for the outstanding member scholastically . . "J" Club trains members to keep fit so that when they enter military service, they will advance more quickly . . . The club is proud of its sponsorship of Perry Samuels's trip to New York to participate in the National A. A. U. Indoor Track Meet, in which he won second against tremendous odds . . . JEFFERSON RADIO CLUB, organized March, 1944, has gone steadily forward, with the high aims of promoting interest in radio and in electronics and of spreading this interest to other scientifically minded students...First sponsored by Miss Kathora Remy, physics teacher, now with the American Red Cross in France, the club is now in charge of Mr. W. E. Montgomery, able and efficient sponsor...The club, energetic and progressive, has gone far in its short existence...It has built and is now operating WJRC, the first high school wired wireless station in the nation ..The projects are training the members in radio, expanding WJRC, and improving broadcasts... The Jefferson Radio Club gave a dance February 6, and everyone had a marvelous time...Broadcasts have been varied, Corwin Riddell, well known news commentator, making the initial broadcast...Max Baer, heavy weight champion, spoke to the school over a later broadcast...This club with its worthwhile activities has helped Jefferson to become one of the best equipped schools in radio in the nation...Good luck, WJRC.

THE LASSOS, Thomas Jefferson High School's pep squad, organized in 1933 by Miss Constance Douglas, orginator of the uniform and the name, with a membership of one hundred girls, is now composed of one hundred seventy-five girls, one hundred in the drill team and seventy-five in the Drum and Bugle Corps. . . Miss Bess Richards and Miss Augusta Boyle took over the sponsorship of the Lassos in 1944 when Miss Douglas resigned. . . The girls, nattily dressed in their uniforms of red and blue with their ten-gallon cowboy hats and ropes, are known far and wide. . . Twenty-foot legitimate ropes are used, which every Lasso is required to twirl. . . Lassos eagerly support the Mustangs at all athletic events, appearing between the halves at all football games, with the Drum and Bugle Corps playing their instruments and the Drill Team executing colorful drills and formations. . . The Lassos participated this year in all games played in San Antonio and one played at Austin High School Stadium. . . Until 1936 Lassos never twirled ropes on the field, but from that time on rope-twirling began to attract attention. . . The Drum and Bugle Corps was added in 1937. . . THE LATIN CLUB originated in 1923 in old Main Avenue High School, when a group of Virgil students in Miss Pearl West's class organized a club whose purpose was to promote sociability and scholarship and to further interest in the study of Latin. . . The Latin classes of Miss Gladys E. Morgan merged with the others. . . The colors chosen were purple and gold, as used on the club emblem, a gold scroll with a cluster of gold laurel leaves on a purple background. . . The motto chosen was "Sempiterna amicitia per linguam sempiternam" (lasting friendship through a lasting language). . . In 1932 the club became the Latin Club of Thomas Jefferson High School. . . The Latin Club each year awards mythology books inscribed with the words "Summa cum laude". . . A special test given by Miss West to her Latin classes determines the recipients. . . This year the winners were Yolanda Galvan, Agnes Barnes, Robert Newton, Patricia Ann Beardmore, Anita Blaylock, and Beverly Ruth Mell. . . Mary Alice Langston received a mythology book for superior work in Cicero. . . Bruce Alder Billingsley won a pin for the best performance at the annual Saturnalia. . . The two main projects of the Latin Club are promoting interest in Latin and helping the war effort.. Interesting students in the study of Latin is a project which has been carried on every year for twenty-two years...The club's second project is to help the war effort materially by contributing to war funds and entertaining wounded soldiers...Several weeks before Christmas every member of the Latin Club made cookies or candies and placed them in gay Christmas boxes.. Fifteen members carried the lovely boxes to the Brooke General Hospital Orthopedic Ward; here they talked with the patients, gave each one a box of the homemade delicacies, and staged a musical program...The program for the year has been very worthwhile...In September the club contributed to the War Chest...Sixty new members introduced themselves...After the business meeting everyone had a chance to get acquainted or re-acquainted...At the November meeting the president appointed Billie Louise Word, Ruth Sorell, Lucy Whitehead, and Dorothea Hankla to work on a Latin Club assembly.. Vocal numbers were given by Melba Powell, Gloria Shiner, Carmen Boog, and Barbara Scruggs . . . The team of Ruth Jean Scharlack-Patty Payne proved its duet ability, while Joan Bailey and Dwight Townes played "Chopsticks" as a novelty duet . . Ruth Jean Scharlack, Joy Rush, and Bruce Billingsly played piano solos . . . Beverly Mell, Nancy M. Higgins, Dorothea Hankla, and Betty Stanley, the "Barbershop Quartette," staged their comedy version of "Three Blind Mice" . . . Into a huddle went the judges and made the decision that Bruce Alder Billingsley was best performer, although the quartet came in a close second . . . Later delicious cocoa and cookies were served in the cafeteria . . . In February, at a social in the home of Joan Bailey, new members were introduced and members donated an $18.75 War Bond to help establish, in ten years or less time, a Memorial fellowship in the American Academy at Rome, honoring Dr. William J. Battle, this gift to be made through the University of Texas . . . Sgt. Richard Galvan of the U.S. Marine Corps, a former valued member, recently arrived from the South Pacific,

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY, affiliated with National Honor Society of Secondary Schools, was established in Jefferson in April of 1932 to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate desire, to render service, to develop leadership, and to appreciate finer character . . . Charter sponsors were Miss Olga H. Vogel and Miss Marie E. J. Helland, Miss Vogel being the present sponsor...Colors are gold, red, white, and purple...The organization has purchased the lace table covers, emblems, flower baskets, punch bowl set, silver ladle, diploma rack, wrought iron stand, flower vases , and a bronze plaque . . Members have acted as guides for visitors, helped teachers with rationing, aided the Student Council in momentous task of mailing Christmas cards to Jeff boys in the Armed Forces . . Highlight of the year is the initiation of newly elected juniors and seniors . Members are well represented in the field of contest winning . . Emblem of the society is the keystone and the flaming torch...The keystone stands for scholarship, leadership, character, and service . . . The flaming torch is symbolic of the purpose to keep burning in our school a high ambition.

THE MARTHA JEFFERSON RANDOLPH SOCIETY, sponsored by Mrs. Mary E. Taliaferro, was established in 1933 as a service and social club . . .The club was named in honor of Thomas Jefferson's favorite daughter. . .The club colors are green and yellow. . Meetings are held every Wednesday in Room 132. . .The project for the year is to install a sprinkler system in the beautiful new azalea and magnolia bed. . .The M.J.R.'s held their first social at the lovely home of Mary Ann Nicol, with delicious refreshments of chocolate cake and punch . . .In October, twenty happy, new pledges presented one of the best initiation programs in the history of the club. The handle-bar mustaches of the pledges were very novel. . .A beautiful candle-light ceremony was held for the solemn initiation of the M.J.R. pledges; in the gracious home of Helen Bernice Cullen each pledge took the oath of membership and became a full-fledged M.J.R. . . .In December the Haynes, the club's brother club, were entertained at another get-together, at which hot dogs and Coca-Colas were served. The annual Christmas luncheon was held at the Aurora, with beautifully decorated tables, holly berries, pine cones, and big red bows, all as attractive as the delicious food and the beautiful toasts

In December the club, showing the true Christmas spirit, came to the rescue of a poor family by giving food, clothing, and money for their happiness . . . The annual Jeff-Shake dance will long be remembered by pretty Shakespeares and their handsome dates for its soft lights, gliding couples, and beautiful music . . . At the Backward Dance in February the tables were turned . . . The Shakespeares and other members of the girls' clubs gave the boys a taste of their own medicine and a big rush . . . In February came another social to welcome excited and happy new members . . . Delicious refreshments were enjoyed by both old and new members . . . In March the Shakespeares entertained Jefferson with a clever, unusual show, greatly enjoyed by all . . . Many hard-working Shakespeares made their paper drive a huge success . . . To climax the year's activities, junior members honored senior members with a lovely farewell luncheon . . . Toasts to officers and appreciation speeches made the seniors feel sorrowful as the Shakespeare song was sung for the last time this year . . . Juniors were hoping to be as wonderful leaders next year as this year's seniors have been . . .

THE STUDENT COUNCIL originated in old Main Avenue High School and moved to Jefferson in 1932, where it was organized as a representative body for the students, a sounding-board of student opinion . . . Miss Mamie Brawner sponsored the council until 1939; then Miss Marie Helland took the responsibility . . . Colors of the council are red and blue . . . Almost all war projects are supervised or assisted by the Student Council . . . Special interest is shown in flying the Treasury flag, which signifies ninety per cent of the members of the student body have bought War Stamps during the preceding month . . . The Council held the honor of president at the Bexar County Leadership Convention in December . . . The Council carries out school government in the most democratic way possible, the ten-point system being used . . . In November school spirit was aroused at a rousing pep rally at the Aztec Theater the night before the big game . . . "Don't Push Week" proved a success as students lined up in a more orderly manner to get on school buses . . . December! $237.12 was collected from the advisories for Christmas cheer . . . City-wide good neighbor policy in January! Jefferson sent representatives to Alamo

THE THESPIAN CLUB was established in 1933 to promote a greater interest in the art of drama... Until 1940 Mr. Fredrick Abbott, the charter sponsor, led the club .. Since that time Mrs. Celeste Dodd has been a most capable and beloved sponsor ... The Thespians have as their colors lavender and gold...The club was named in honor of Thespus, the first great dramatist in Greece...Thespians are collecting waste paper and magazines for the Red Cross, preparing Christmas packages for the service men at Brooke General Hospital, and planning entertainments for the men in the army camps of San Antonio... This year the club's project was the presenting of camp shows, one act plays and variety shows... As usual, the other project is to keep the Thespian Island beautiful with its lavender and gold iris, pansies, candy-tuft, and water lilies...In October, at an enjoyable social, the new members were initiated and new officers were installed...In the same month a play "My Name is Mildred," directed by Mildred Pearl Hodson, was presented,

Somewhere Near Berlin

Dear Joe and Judy Jefferson,

This life in my Red Cross clubmobile is a far cry from my Girls' Cadet Corps days back in dear old Jefferson. This is a strange new life I am now living. All about me there is the tense expectancy of waiting—waiting—waiting for the inevitable screaming of the guns and the thundering of the motors. Suddenly the earth quakes, and we know waves of our tanks are rolling out once more to storm the enemy, to push him ever farther back beyond his so-called "invincible" capital. Soon our boys will be coming in, a few at a time, for doughnuts, coffee, and a smoke. * * * We start moving slowly forward. We must push on, for we know our boys, who are moving forward so terribly fast through the enemy's land, are depending on us for that little moment of refreshment when even a doughnut means so much. * * * Last night I remembered the Red Cross drives back at Jeff. I remembered the time that I walked off a month's worth of shoe-leather collecting magazines for Brooke General Hospital. Those bobby socks and blue jeans were never so dirty before. But it was worth it, for I knew I had played some small part in this war even then. * * * As the last Joe sets down his cup and turns away, I realize more than ever before why I'm here—to help him preserve the life of which he's dreaming—showers and clean sheets, apple pies and Christmas trees. To the battle-begrimed boys and men who come to this Red Cross clubmobile, we Red Cross girls are America. We are the connecting link between their memories of America and their hopes for a chance to live their own lives as individuals when they get back to God's own country again. That's what they're fighting for, and with your help, Joe and Judy, that's what they'll find when they come home to their own America again.

In perfect dress, setting the step for all parades and reviews, furnishing music for every R.O.T.C. activity, the Thomas Jefferson High School R.O.T.C. Band cheerfully performs all of these duties. Their shining instruments reflect the sunlight as the Band proudly sets the pace from the time "Adjutant's Call" is sounded until all the companies pass in review. Outward expression of the inner feeling of each cadet, the inspiring music creates an atmosphere of pride and seriousness. The Band is the spark about which the R.O.T.C. re-

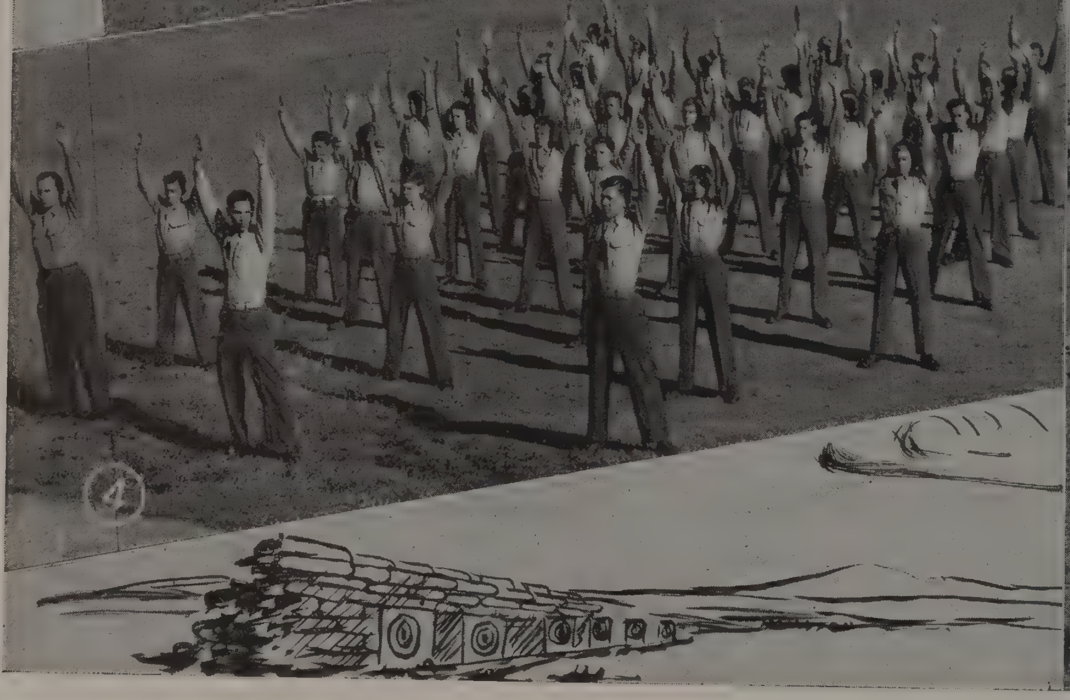
★ ★ Future Defenders of



Always occupying a deservedly high place in our school's course of study, our Reserve Officers' Training Corps is this year playing an important role in the making of future soldiers, as we realize we will need a strong Armed Force long, long after the fighting has ceased. (1) "B" Company salutes our National Banner with "Present Arms." Fine, strong young faces are these. (2) "A" Company knows that learning how to keep a rifle clean is as important as learning how to be an expert marksman with the rifle. (3) Passing in review is the honor company of the Regiment, Company 'C", all eyes turned toward the reviewing stand..

Our Great Country

Congratulations, Company "C", for being the only company in the history of Jefferson to win the honor banner six times in succession. (4) "D" Company plays well its part in maintaining healthy bodies and building strong muscles through United States Army calisthenics. (5) "Stack Arms!" Cadets of "F" Company quickly make ready for their next drill. (6) Today it's the bullseye; tomorrow, the enemy. Target practice equips these "E" Company boys with a straight eye and a good aim for their future careers. Truly our Reserve Officers Training Corps is a credit to our school and our nation.

Somewhere on Iwo Jima

Dear Joe and Judy Jefferson,

Today we landed on Iwo Jima. From our landing craft we saw smoke billowing forth and heard the sound of battle over the water. Then came my time to go ashore. It was like the end of the fourth quarter in a Brackenridge-Jefferson game with the score tied—only worse. * * * Then I rushed through the surf; the landing craft could come no farther because of the reefs. Bullets pattered along the sand, cutting ruts where I had been, where I was going. Ahead of me there was a gigantic explosion, a billowing geyser of sand and rubble. The smoke cleared away. On the battle-scarred slope I saw a buddy of mine—a sort of brother. He lay motionless. I crept along, crawled along, inch by inch, trying to reach him, spray from the enemy's fire falling all about us. Miraculously I reached him and administered precious blood plasma. Then he smiled, and I knew that he would be saved. How strongly I wish that everyone back home would only know how vital it is for our blood plasma supply never to be exhausted! * * * Tonight I've been thinking of my own days in dear old Jefferson. I remember the paper drives we had, those bright plaid shirts and blue jeans. I remember how we used to pile in my old jalopy, using your garage, Judy, as headquarters for our vast stacks of paper. How sweet you looked with that black smudge on your nose! Somehow I like to think that we had the equipment to land on Iwo because of just such paper drives as those * * * Now I know what I'm fighting for, everlasting peace, a chance to grow and live in a strong and free America, a chance to live my life in my own way, a chance to worship as I please, a chance for all of us to educate our children some day to be free and fine and strong young Americans. Do your part to keep America great, Joe and Judy.

★ Studious Hours ★

Above:

There they sit—the Joes and Judys of Jefferson—the future leaders of our city, state, and country. How truly lucky they are to have such a quiet and spacious library to study in! When they look back to their high school days, it will stand out in their memory, not as a place in which quiet was necessary, but as a place where they learned valuable lessons. Students are inspired not only by the beauty of the Spanish-style architecture, but also by the shelves filled with books concerning every subject. The librarians graciously assist all students, and the library assistants help to keep the books in order and check them out.

Opposite:

Now in these war years more than ever before Jefferson students look to the Jefferson P.T.A. for guidance and the preserving of the high standards set up by this organization. (1) Mrs. Mickler, president of the P.T.A. for '44-'45, discussed plans with the executive board at an important meeting. Left to right (seated) are Mrs. J. B. Etheridge; Mrs. N. P. Wimberly; Mrs. W. Initiation Days are Here

A big event in the lives of the upper classmen was the week of initiation in the early fall when they watched the poor sophomores go through the same initiation that the seniors had. (1) These paint-smeared Indian-like girls and boys have gone through the final stages of the initiation required for new Euclidean Mathematics Club members. (2) As a part of their initiation into the Scribblers, students read their own original sixteen-line poems. (3) New members of the Latin Club lined up and were introduced; all awaited their turn at being congratulated by the president, Agnes Barnes, and the secretary, Dorothea Hankla. (4) Lucky Mr. Rogers had his shoes shined by a pledge of the Jeff Forum during the three-day initiation. (5) As a part of their initiation, pledges of the Hayne Debating Society carried out the orders of the members of the club. These boys received commands to support the lamp post while balancing books on their outstretched arms; they were fortunate not to have to support the wall. (6) Martha Durward, president of the Shakespeare Literary Society, gave the oath of membership to Mary Tynan, a newly initiated member. (7) A beautiful affair, long to be remembered, was the Jeff Forum banquet, at which the pledges took the solemn membership oath. (8) Proud pledges of the Senate Debating Society praised the members of the club with a "Praise Allah" on the arcade steps. (9) Planning the spring term initiations were the four girl presidents of the Wednesday clubs: Joy Rush, Thespians; Martha Durward, Shakespeares; Mary Ellen Murray, Skeltons; Helen Bernice Cullen, M.J.R. (10) Visiting the Annual office to look over the pictures of their clubs' former initiations, Presidents Curtis Higgs, Wayne Hoey, and Wayne Wesley Saunders stopped to admire the Annual's trophies. Initiations run the gamut from just plain fun to solemnity.

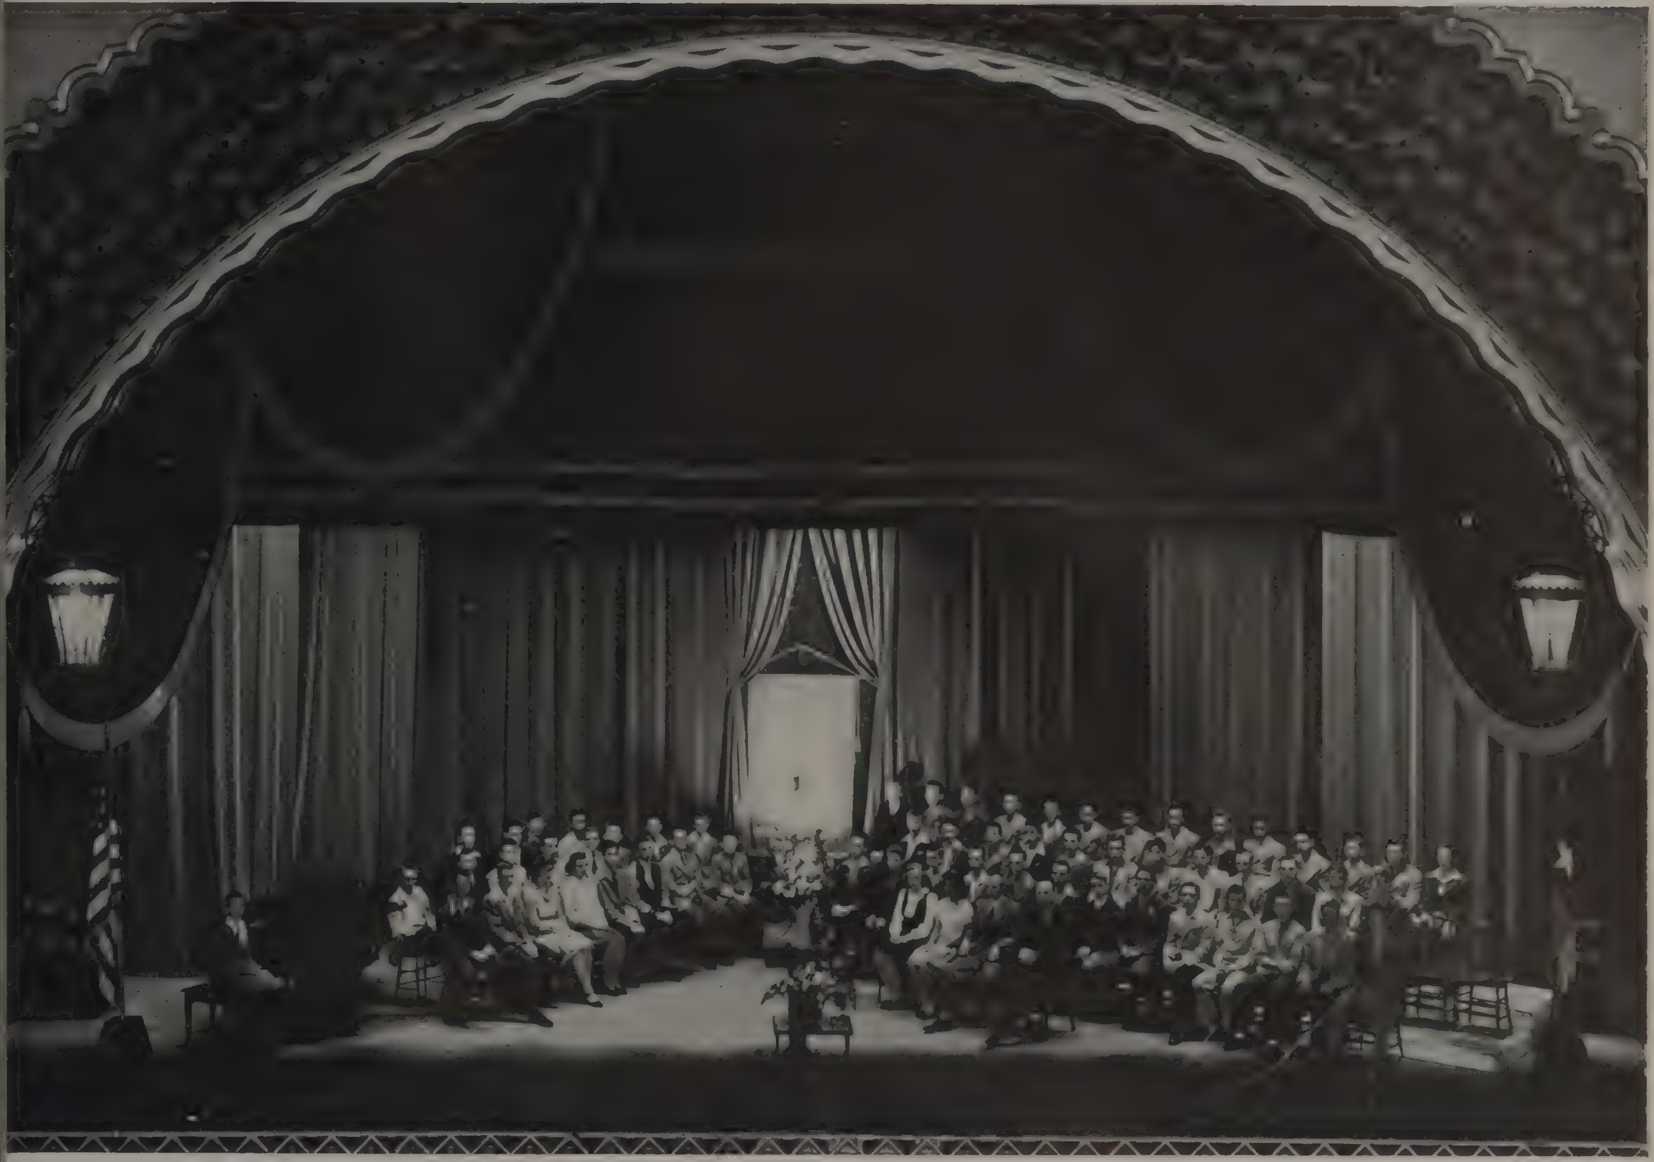
ARMISTICE • PARADE •

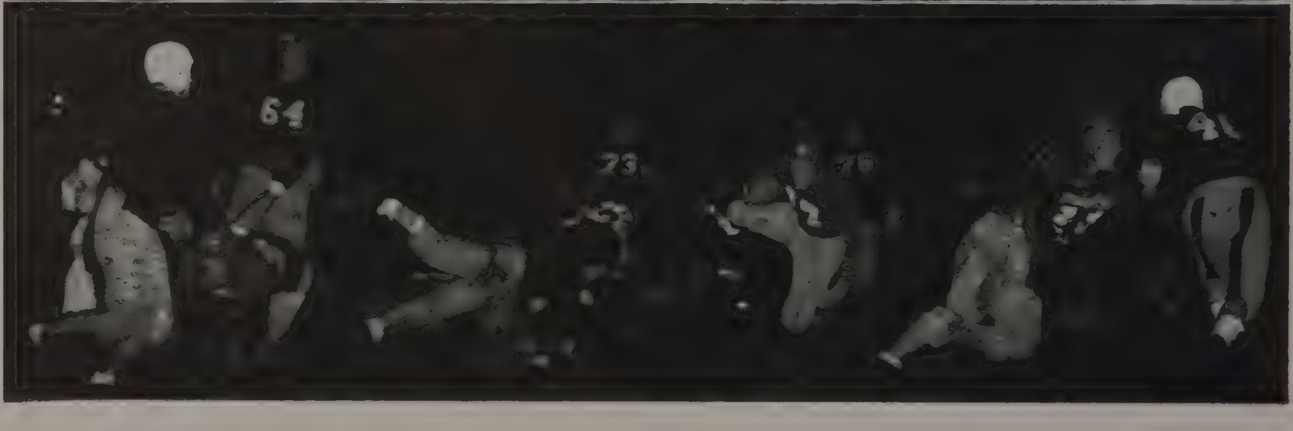
★ Solemn Tribute to Our Heroes ★



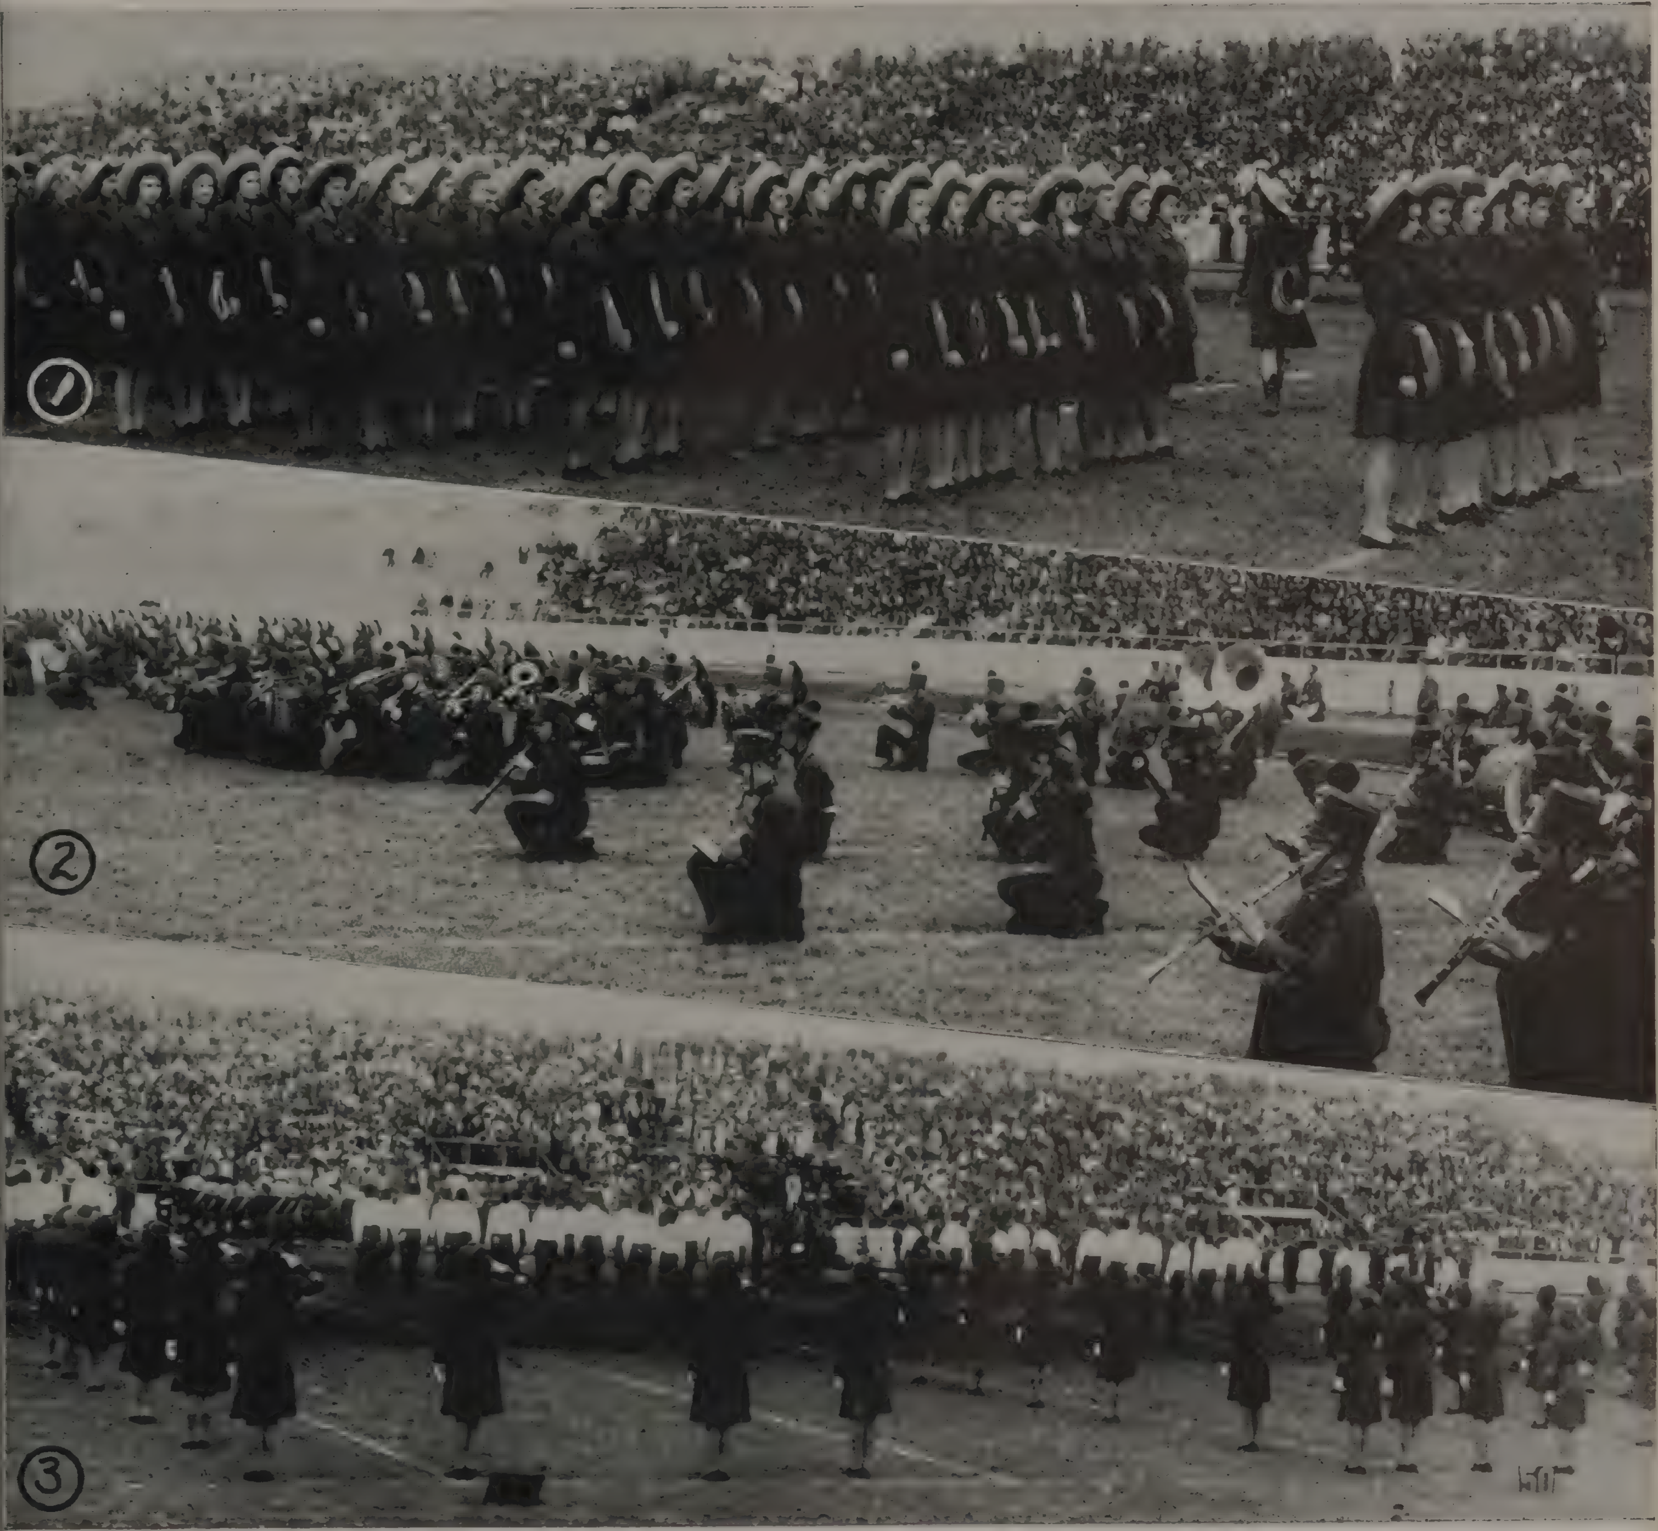
Upper: With the Service Flag beautifully enshrined in the center of the stage, the Senate Debating Society presented the true meaning of Armistice Day in their assembly program on November 10. Dean W. Plath, president of the society, gave a speech entitled "Tribute to Jefferson's Heroes," in which he praised all of the former students of Thomas Jefferson who are serving in the Armed Forces of our country. The speech was ended with a moment of silent prayer for those who have given and are giving their lives in the service of our America. Following this, Preston Dial recited the famous poem of the first World War, "In Flanders Field." Albert Maverick McNeel Jr., in his "Reply of Present Day Youth," spoke words which will long be remembered by the entire audience. The solemnity of the assembly was increased by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," "America," "The Hymn of the United States Navy," and "America, the Beautiful."

Opposite: To make this year's Armistice Day Parade as colorful and solemn as in previous years, Jefferson's uniformed groups ably represented her on this great occasion as they proudly passed in review for the spectators. (1) As dashing as their uniforms, the Girls' Cadet Corps, headed by Colonel Peggy Jo White, proudly showed their colors and marching ability on this memorable occasion. (2) Honoring the soldiers of the last war were the Reserve Officers' Training Corps in regimental mass, led by the competent company officers and preceded by the color guard. (3) The girls of the colorful Lasso Drill Team in snappy ranks of four marched down the street with Major Nancy Gardner keeping a watchful eye on her charges. (4) The School Band, led by Drum Major Joe Bob Menzler, played a stirring piece in honor of Armistice Day and the World War heroes. (5) Under the capable leadership of Drum Majorette Joan Bailey, the Lasso Drum and Bugle Corps played a march tune as they paraded down the street.

"Beat the Maroons Now!"



★ Solidly Behind Our Boys ★



Opposite: We shall always remember the two happy weeks of mad rush and exciting preparation for every phase of the Jefferson-Austin game. (1) Loyal members of Jefferson's Student Council, directed by Miss Marie Helland, backed up our football boys one hundred per cent by making the red and blue pompoms to cheer the fighting Mustangs on to victory. (2) Later, amid cheering crowds of students, these pompoms enlivened the tense Austin game, during which our school showed the pride and enthusiasm felt for our gallant football boys in an unusually tough tussle. (3) Urged on by the rousing cheers of supporting Jeffites, the ever popular Samuels went off left tackle aided by his team mates for a short gain.

Above: At the Turkey Day game. (1) Western-clad Jefferson Lassos stood at attention while Major Nancy Gardner presented Brackenridge with an eagle. (2) While playing "Any Bonds Today," the band carried out its part in the letter formation "Buy In Fifth War Loan." (3) To the glorious tune of the "Star Spangled Banner," the R.O.T.C. Drill Team and the Girls' Cadet Corps too their places in the letters "Thank God for Allies."

All the World's

Each of the organizations in school has its opportunity to present an assembly in the auditorium. Other assemblies are brought to us by civic organizations who wish to help further education in Thomas Jefferson. (1) Samuel Marti, violinist of Mexico, accompanied by Gunhild Nilsson, was selected by the Pan-American Relations to further Latin-American friendship. (2) Ellis Albaugh III, Marie McMunn, and Mary Jackson of the Monticello Junior Staff, surrounded by interested sophomores, tell in an assembly of their 1945 plans for the photographing of the students. (3) Representing the Allied Youth Movement throughout the United States, W. Roy Breg spoke to us on a very important topic, our thoughts and our lives in future years. (4) In an inspiring, solemn Thanksgiving assembly the Shakespeare Club presented the Reverend Samuel L. Terry as guest speaker; he discussed "Our American Heritage." (5) After Dr. Terry's talk the Shakespeares, who had been seated on the stage throughout the assembly, sang "Thanksgiving Song," directed by Mrs. Estaline Mayfield. (6) In the traditional assembly welcoming the sophomores the school leaders spoke. Each stressed working hard and being regular in attendance as the essentials of making good grades. (7) Lenora Elizabeth McKenzie, accompanied by Ruth Jean Scharlack, sang very beautifully "It Had to Be You" for the student body between acts at the Masque and Gavel show. (8) These are actually our own friends and classmates hypnotized on the stage; Fassoux, the famous hypnotist, held an audience of 1,148 spellbound in a most enjoyable show presented by the School Band.

Our Memorable

At the traditional Christmas dance given by the seniors, excited happy students thronged the front hall for the first hall dance to be given in many years. (1) In front of the huge, lovely Christmas tree, decorated by members of the Student Council, the five happy, excited junior girls received their coveted honoree ribbons to the delight of all. (2) Contributing their parts to the floor show at this never-to-be-forgotten dance, Grubin the Great and his assistant held the audience within their magic spell with their wizardry as magicians. (3) A contrast in expressions! While watching the happy couple gliding away over the dance floor, this boy paused a moment to express his feelings as they danced off leaving him a roving stag. (4) Dressed a la Jefferson, most informally in loud shirts and sweaters, in boots and bobby socks, happy couples called back and forth to each other as they swung and swayed to the smooth strains of the nickelodeon. (5) Our Mike at the mike! Santa Claus, alias Football Star Mike Manupelli, confronted the startled dancers and Master of Ceremonies with a paddle and inquired, "Have you all been well behaved in '44? If you haven't, just let me know and I'll fix you up." (6) Dancing to the strains of "Home, Sweet Home," amidst the atmosphere of sweet music, soft lights, and gay chatter, these happy smiling couples brought another successful dance to a memorable end.

ANNUAL SALES

Opposite: Jefferson is proud of its honor students. These honors are in a varied field but all come together in their manner of smiling. (1) Cadet First Sgt. Eugene Sobrino smilingly congratulates Cadet Captain Manuel De Larrea, company commander of Company "C", for the effort he put forth to achieve six consecutive honor company stars. (2) Dan Collie is indeed proud of his poem he wrote which was printed in the Texas Anthology of High School Poetry. (3) Beverly Graff won first place recently in a citywide band contest. She is shown as she received her honor. (4) Leslie Pickett, paper king of the city, is shown with his $25.00 War Bond he won as first place. (5) Adolph Bustos and Della Brennen are justly proud of their posters they entered in a city art contest. Adolph won first place, while Della came close behind him with second. (6) Elliff Nichols won first prize, a $100 War Bond, and Albert Maverick McNeel Jr. won second prize of a $50 War Bond in the San Antonio Light contest which was sponsored by William Randolph Hearst.

Above: Popeye rings the gong! Jefferson clubs truly go to town in the Annual sales contest, every club striving to win the honor of being first, second, or third in the contest and every club member attempting to win a free annual for selling a certain number. This year M.J.R. girls won first honor, Senate boys won second, and Skelton girls won third in a close contest. Happiest of all, however, were the fortunate winners of free annuals (left to right, above): Joan Bailey; Bob Hohenberger; Beverly Marie Mell, with the stupendous total of fifty-seven, thus establishing an all-time high record for personal sales; Petsy Gammill, Joyce Meyer, and Stephen Bilby. Robert Rascoe, with the next highest number, the astounding total of forty-two, is not shown in picture. Congratulations, club members, on a great job well done!

Although there is, of course, a fine spirit of rivalry among the clubs at Jefferson, there are many occasions when the members get together in a spirit of friendliness. The Skelton Club members entertained their brother club, the Senators, in their lovely Skelton patio. A delightful time, filled with autumn sunlight and laughter, will be remembered by all.

Opposite:

Three of the largest organizations in Jefferson took advantage of the golden autumn days by enjoying socials in the spacious out-of-doors. (1) A tea given by the members of the Girls' Cadet Corps in the beautiful garden of Cadet Major Agnes Barnes served to bring about fellowship and unity between two popular organizations by honoring the Lassos. (4) Dainty dancers, better known as the mighty Mustangs, tripped the "Light Fantastic" to the tune of roaring laughter as they "Put Your Little Foot" across the stage. (5) Lovely music and gliding Jeffites gracefully performed for King Arthur and his court when they visited Jefferson in the Senior Frolic. (6) Rendering their version of "Don't Fence Me In," to the accompaniment of Jimmie Gray's banjo, these Jefferson hillbillys brought down the house. (7) At the party given for Company "C" in recognition of the high honor it has attained as honor company throughout the year, Cdt. Major Lee Marriner Adams and Cdt. ★

Opposite: Although there are times for some of us when it seems the term will never end, the day arrives. The hustle and bustle of checking in books and getting grade cards is a contagious thing, causing even those who have finished to hurry. (1) After a term of wear and tear, lines formed around the cafeteria as tired but happy students turned in their constant companions of the term, their text books. (2) As the term closed, life began to move faster and to become more complicated. Even the best students sometimes lost books or accidentally exchanged with someone, and these students were waiting to have their lost books identified. (3) The shelves in the stack room sag with the weight of so much knowledge. The Student Council is in charge of the checking in of the books and here three Student Council boys were trying to put more books on an already overloaded shelf.

REAL WAR WORK

Thomas Jefferson is truly proud of the war work being done throughout the school by the students. During the year real Jefferson spirit was at high tide, as everyone was all out for victory. (1) Officers of the Latin Club — Agnes Barnes, Dorothea Hankla, and Albert Maverick McNeel Jr.—were bidding farewell to Max Morales, departing to join Uncle Sam's fighting forces. (2) The Red Cross Committee of the Student Council, aided by Miss Helland, packed precious articles which they sent to our armed services overseas. (3) Gerald McRoberts, veteran of the South Pacific and wearer of the Purple Heart, was shown our beautiful Service flag by his sister, Shirley. (4) At Brooke General Hospital, Girl Reserves did their share in cheering up our servicemen, who have given their best for those of us in this peace-loving country. (5) As a representative of the Latin Club, Nancy Higgins presented Dorothea Hankla, treasurer, a check to be given by the Latin Club to the War Chest. (6) The Brewer advisory entertained a group of convalescent servicemen from Brooke General Hospital with a memorable Christmas party. (7) Masque and Gavel members were on their way to Brooke General Hospital, where they built up the hopes and spirits of wounded servicemen with their humorous skits. Every since the dedication of our Monticello to Brooke General Hospital last year Jeff students have felt a close tie between our school and the great hospital.

We were very grateful to Mr. Portwood for his bringing this interesting speaker to us. (3) The Denton A Cappella Choir of forty voices, under the able direction of Dr. W. C. Bain, presented an unusual program for Jefferson's ardent students, the beautiful music ranging all the way from Bach to the present day. (4) Dr. Charles E. (6) Members of the eighty-two-voice Trinity Choir, surrounded by enthusiastic members of the Glee Club, discussed musical interests. Jefferson will long remember this beautiful Christmas assembly, at which Handel's "Messiah" was so wonderfully sung. The activities of the Jefferson students have a very wide range. (1) Sophomores with no grade less than "B" may belong to the Sophomore Scholastic Society and wear its pin, portraying the wise old owl, as long as they maintain their high standards. These are the privileged students who belonged to it during the first half of the second term, many of whom continued to maintain their standing. (2) To further Brotherhood Week the Hi-Y Club presented a priest, a rabbi, and a Protestant minister in an inspiring assembly. (3) The Jefferson Band honored the student body by presenting a concert for the enjoyment of all. (4) Dressed all in white, the members of the Shakespeare Club sang their beautiful song in the finale of their show.

(5) Engineers appointed thirty-five Jefferson boys to tabulate for four hours the different points of most traffic in San Antonio. (6) The Lassos are shown as they marched proudly down the main street in town twirling their ropes in the Red Cross parade. (7) The Girls' Cadet Corps finale was rated as one of the finest this year. The girls were bidding the Cadets farewell as they were leaving for overseas duty. (8) The three mascots are shown as they received their ribbons at the Jeff-Shake dance in the gym. (9) The Skeltons presented their show at Brooke General Hospital with their audience of veterans looking on, in all the dignity and pride of Jefferson. ★ ★ The Curtain

Combining education with entertainment, Jefferson's shows and assemblies appeal to the varied interests of all students. In our spacious auditorium each Wednesday club presents a show as well as an assembly. The shows are given by members of the clubs and are usually very entertaining. Many prominent men and women are guest speakers at the assemblies. Whether solemn, beautiful, or amusing, Jefferson students enjoy them all. (1) Presented at one of the most serious assemblies of the year, Mrs. Edna Zeimer, wife of the author of Education for Death, amazed us with her vivid descriptions of the terrible conditions in pre-war Germany. It was at this time that the flags of the Allied Nations were presented to the school. 1945, descended to the crooning voice of George Livesay. (3) For a grand finale at the Skelton show all the Skelton members, dressed in billowing white dresses, sang their beautiful Skelton song. (4) Lauding books as the best means of gaining unity among nations, the Book Week assembly presented typical culture products from all the Americas, with the Drill Team signifying protection and the girls representing the Latin-American countries. (5) To the accompaniment of Mr. Oscar Fox, Sergeant C. J. Robinson sang the former's beautiful songs in the unforgettable Forum Capers. (6) Providing the main source of music in assemblies, the School Orchestra, ably conducted by Mr. Jerome Zoeller, presented its own program for the student body. It would be difficult to imagine an assembly without the orchestra.

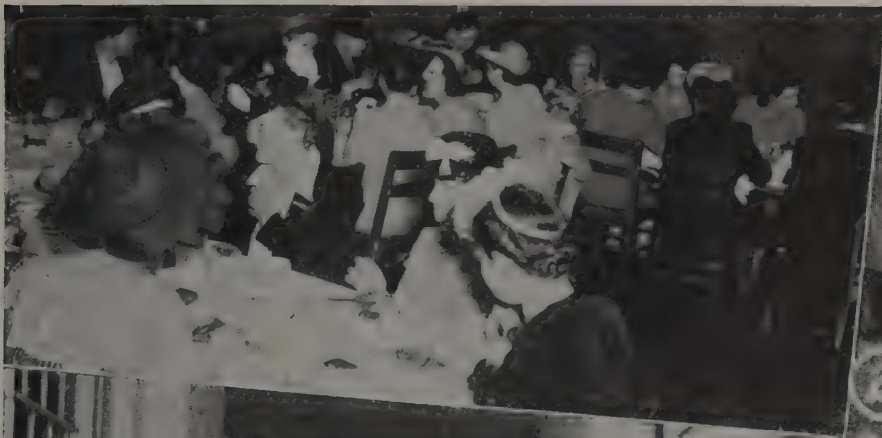
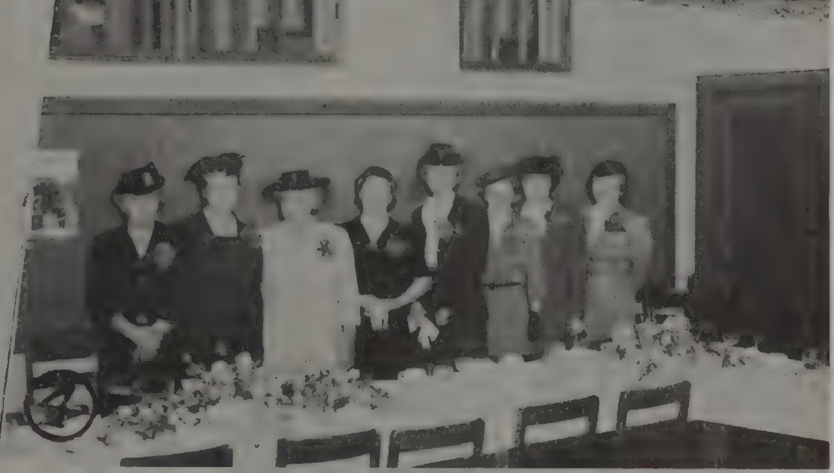
★ Distributive Education Valuable ★

Jefferson is duly proud of the Distributive Education class, which, under the able leadership of Miss Jean Pace, works not only to aid the war effort but to gain experience for future years as well. (1) Barbara Kurka, Pat Galleger, and Helen Louise Dittert, enthusiastic class members, are taught retail selling in the china department of Joske's, thus relieving an acute shortage of civilian employees by their working a portion of each week day and all day Saturday. (2) Preparing for their future careers, Irene Skolaut, Eva Murl Batts, and Juanita Lenore Porter are also aiding the war effort with their contributions to the clerical work in the office at Frost Brothers. (3) Dorothy Nell Harper, another efficient member of the Distributive Education class, sells purses to two members of the Army Nurse Corps at Frank Brothers. (4) Amused and happy Distributive Education pupils tour a toy exhibit held at the Transit Tower. This top exhibit was only a small part of the goods displayed at the Gift Mart. These girls had the privilege of seeing these articles before buyers from twenty-eight states came to purchase them. At each display the girls received a lesson in salesmanship from the salesman in charge of that particular exhibit. Truly patriotic are these students who are thus relieving the shortage of man power and women power.

★ Founders' Day at Our School ★





(1) In their annual observance of Founders' Day the P.T.A. mothers were honored by a luncheon. (2) At the annual tree-planting ceremony Mrs. Mickler, president of the P.T.A., planted a tree in honor of the most recent President, Mrs. J. D. Williamson. (3) Mr. Rogers and our mothers have just left the P.T.A. meeting in the Little Theater to attend a tea in their honor. (4) Grouped around the lovely table at the Founders' Day luncheon were Jefferson's past presidents of the Parent Teachers' Association: Mrs. Lewis Chick, Mrs. F. E. Middleton, Mrs. A. K. Japhet, Mrs. J. F. Stille, Mrs. B. F. Smith, Mrs. W. M. Carnes, Mrs. J. D. Williamson, and Mrs. W. R. Mickler. (5) Colorful indeed was the parade of the uniformed groups, honoring our mothers.

★ Praise From a High Source ★

Representatives from all of the Jefferson groups are guests of Kelly Field at a beautiful dedication ceremony, at which President Mattei of the Student Council presents to Lt. Col. James N. Sammons the treasury certificate, attesting that part of our $103,000 in War Bonds had been used for the purchase of an airplane.

Response by Lt. Colonel Sammons:

"Your loyal patriotic work is an outstanding contribution toward victory for America and her Allies ★ ★ ★ Your efforts along with the efforts of millions of other high school students throughout this great land of ours are making it possible for the AAF to supply our fighting airmen all over the world with the most, the best, planes and equipment in the world ★ ★ ★ Speaking for ATSC, whose job it is to keep them flying and fighting wherever they may be, it is indeed a pleasure and an honor to recognize the excellent contribution that you have made to shorten the war, and I assure you that your request that your plane be named "The Spirit of Thomas Jefferson" will receive every consideration."

Somewhere on Luzon

Dear Joe and Judy Jefferson,

Last night was clear and beautiful; the stars were so close I could almost reach out and touch them. The moon, framed by the bullet-riddled palms, hung low over the islands, which only that morning we had snatched from those "sons of heaven." All was quiet except for the occasional whining of a ricocheting sniper's bullet. The blessed darkness of the night transformed the horrors of the day. Sharp lines of wreckage were softened by moonlight. They seemed to be mere shadows of a horrible nightmare. * * * Once more, for the first time in years, it seemed, I saw a good old American moving picture. We sat around on the ground and on logs watching Bing Crosby in "Going My Way." It helped us immeasurably to forget those past experiences—the battles we had just fought, our buddies beside whom we had fought, eaten, and slept not so long ago, but who were not with us last night. * * * Somehow back home I never thought my life would some day be like this. I never dreamed when I sat in all those Bing Crosby pictures that the next time I saw Bing would be in a setting such as this, holding the cold hard barrel of my rifle. * * * That night after we dug in, my thoughts turned to Jefferson and I remembered that War Chest Parade during my senior year. It was in October, wasn't it? Little did I dream then that I would change my R.O.T.C. uniform for a G.I. suit of khaki and be overseas in so short a time. I like to think that maybe my school's contribution helped to bring us this picture. * * * Lying there last night, somehow I knew I'd come back because I had to. In the Infantry a man is trained to stand alone, to forge ahead, not just for himself but for his buddy, his "top kick," his wife and kids, his home. He begins to feel something indefinable but tremendous. That's the spirit that's going to win this war. That's the spirit that fills every man over here. That's the spirit I'll be looking for when I come back. Keep that spirit alive back in America, Joe and Judy. I want to find that kind of American spirit when I come home.

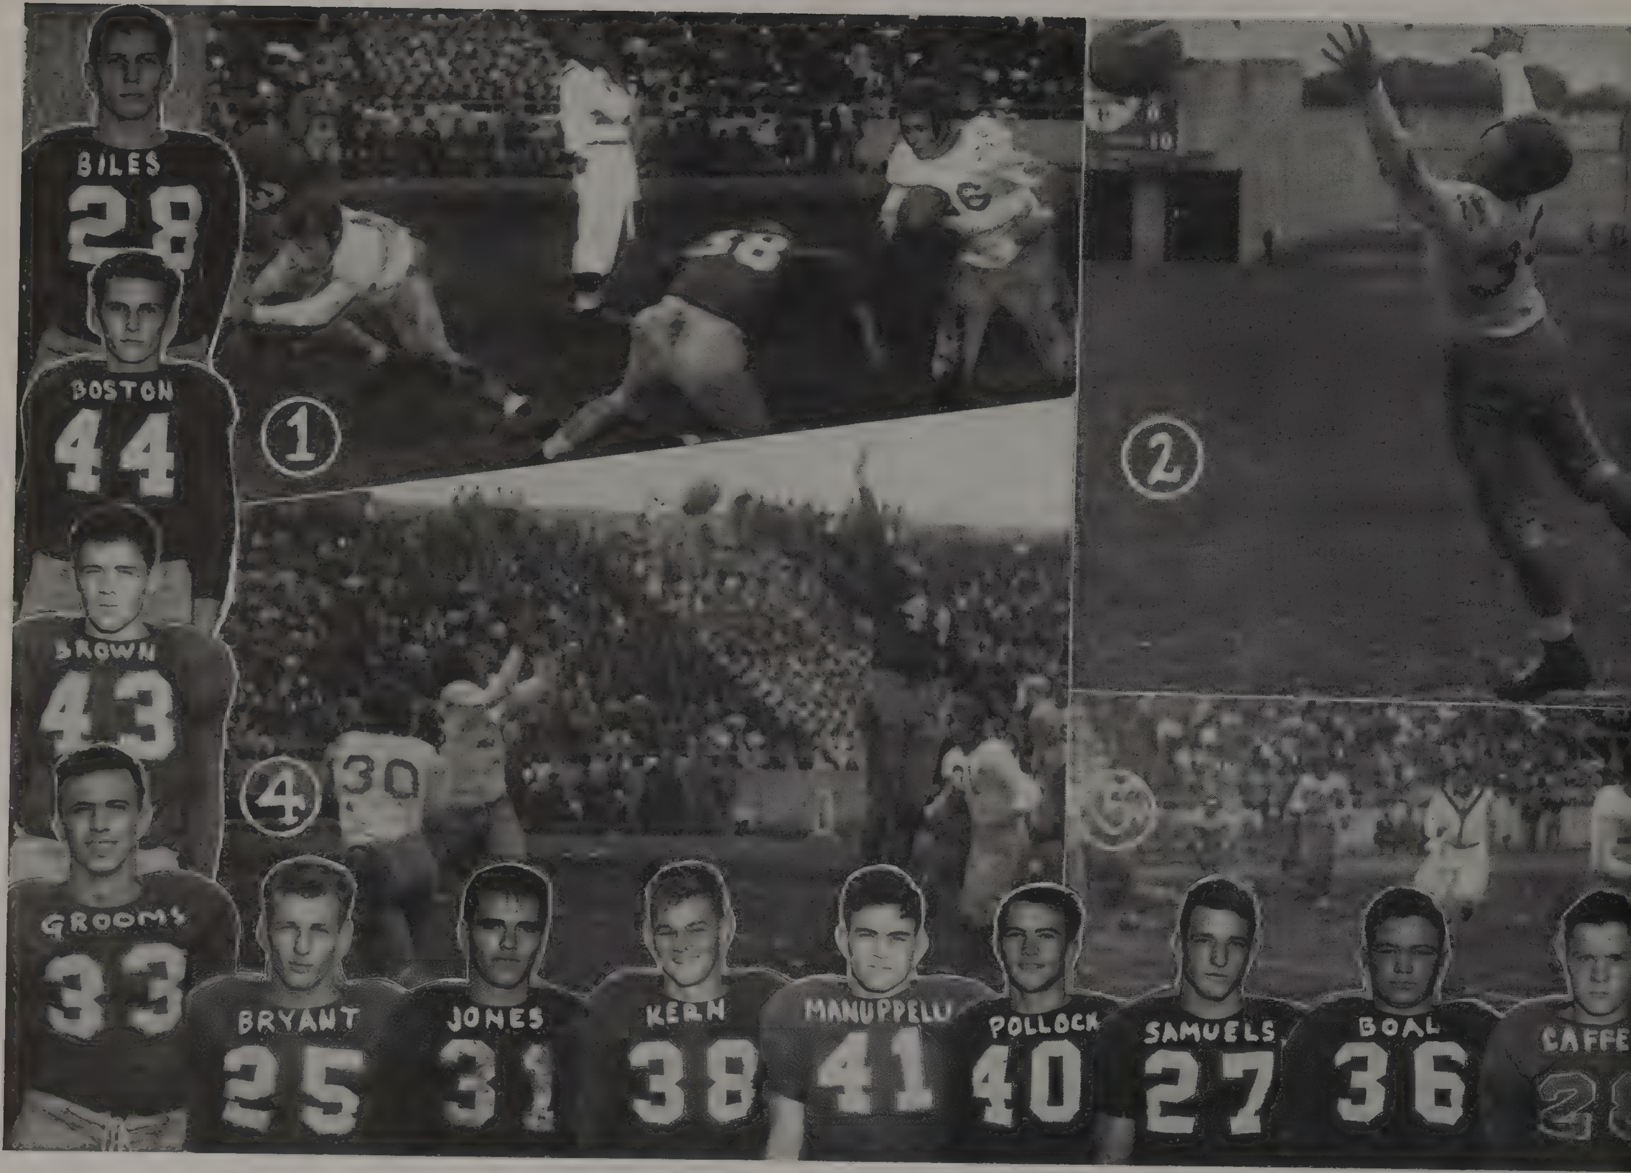
Mighty Grid Season;



The annual Jefferson-Brackenridge Turkey Day Game is one of the most exciting of the season, for on this day the two teams clash for the city title. (1) Erfurth made gain for Eagles as Joe Kern (38) came up for tackle. Knight (30) was blocked by Mack White; other Jeff players are Browne (on hands and knees), Guly (35), and Pollock (40); Brackenridge's Collie, Martin, and Sweet are (31), (40), and (30). (2) Biles (28) vied for possession as Blackwood of Brackenridge made wild reach for pass. (3) Biles pounced on Sweet after Eagle star made

Showing spirit, hustle, and a tricky offensive, the Jefferson Mustangs plastered a 44-6 defeat on the T.M.I. Panthers in the opening game of the season at Alamo Stadium on September 14. Samuels led the scoring with three touchdowns, one coming on a beautiful sixty-three yard dash through the entire Panther team. Perry Gene Biles, Jack Jones, George Boal, and J. Henry Perry teamed together to make a solid victory. On September 22 the Mustangs, unleashing a brilliant running attack behind savage blocking, rode roughshod over the Milby Buffaloes, by a 43-0 score before 6,000 fans at Alamo Stadium. The Buffaloes, rated as co-favorite for the Houston championship, out-weighed the Nags by a wide margin, but Jeff's spirit and hustle made possible the surprising victory. Samuels made one of the best runs of his two-year career, a 90-yard punt return. Excellent blocking left Samuels's path clear up to the Milby 30, but three tacklers appeared to have him trapped at that point. Perry, however, dodged out and reversed his field no less than three times in five yards to dash on over the goal line. The entire Jefferson team showed fire and dash. On September gain as Guly (35), Pollock (40), and Manuppelli (in background) lent support. (4) Boston, surrounded by Brackenridge defense, leaped high into the air trying to snag a pass from Jones; Eagles are Sweet (30), Erfurth (26), Collie (31), and Watt (29). (5) With Erfurth in hot pursuit Perry Gene Biles dashed around left end for a 15-yard gain. (6) Biles and Jones tackled Arthur Sweet of Brackenridge, who fumbled, while Pollock (40), Brown (43), Guly (35), Grooms (33), and Manuppelli (41) came up to make tackle secure.

29 in Temple the Temple Wildcats, scoring a touchdown in the last two minutes of the game, nosed out the Jefferson Mustangs 9-6. Prancing Perry Samuels gave the Nags an early 6-0 lead with a brilliant 98-yard touchdown run. Temple scored two points on a safety late in the second quarter. The Jeff Horses stopped Temple four times but were off sides on the fourth down. Temple then tossed a touchdown pass to win the game. As this tussle was not a conference affair, the defeat only stirred the Mustangs to greater heights. In Laredo on October 6 the Mustangs, led by Perry Samuels, who scored 24 points, rode herd over the Laredo Tigers with a smashing 39-0 victory in defense of their 15AA championship. Laredo was unable to threaten and made only three first downs as compared with Jefferson's twenty. Jack Jones and O. L. Pollock scored the two remaining touchdowns. The Mustangs, playing before an audience of almost 4,000 people, proved Friday, October the 13th, was no jinx to them by routing the never-beaten McAllen Bulldogs 33-6. Perry Samuels hogged 21 of the 30 points with Perry Gene Biles and O. L. Pollock making up the remaining points. Powerhousing a good Corpus Christi team 33-0 before a crowd of 9,000 at Alamo Stadium on October 21, the Jefferson Mustangs brought smiles to the faces of all their supporters. Perry Samuels added two touchdowns to his season's total, but even his fine showing was out-done by the brilliant line play of O. L. Pollock, Bill Grooms, and Mike Manuppelli. These three smeared play after play and were the bulwarks of a line holding the Buccaneers to a net gain of 28 yards rushing. George Boal and his educated toe converted the extra point twice with Jack Jones converting one extra point. In Austin on November 6 the Mustangs, outweighed and outplayed, fell before the Austin Maroons 26-6. Most of the first half was played in Jefferson territory with a heroic Jeff line keeping the Maroons from scoring. Although behind 26-0 Jefferson came back with dash and spirit to score its only touchdown. Samuels broke loose for 35 yards to the 10 and then circled end for the score. Coming back strong to retain a chance at the District 15AA Championship, the Jefferson Mustangs knocked the Tivy Antlers out of the unbeaten, untied class as they took a 19-6 victory before a large crowd at Alamo Stadium on November 10. Perry Samuels led the scoring with two touchdowns as he ran his total for the season to 115. Perry Gene Biles scored the other six points, and Jack Jones booted one extra point. Two quick touchdowns in the third period clinched the Jeff triumph. A 70-yard drive, ending in a pay-off pass from Jones to Samuels, added six points to the total. Samuels gained most of the yardage in the drive, with Jones and Biles helping. The best play of the night followed as Samuels, running from his own 20, cut off tackle and zigzagged 80 yards to score standing up. Bill Grooms, Eugene Bryant, O. L. Pollock, and Eric Browne were the outstanding linemen for Jefferson. Plowing through rain and mud, the Mustangs swamped the San Antonio Tech Buffaloes 39-6 at Alamo Stadium November 17 as Perry Samuels, O. L. Pollock, and J. Henry Perry starred. Samuels and Pollock each scored two of Jefferson's six touchdowns. Soon after the start of the second half Samuels took a punt on his own 11 and hot-footed 89 yards without a hand being laid upon him. Coach Irvin then put the substitutes into the game with J. Henry Perry scoring twice. Striking swiftly in the early minutes of the second half, the Brackenridge Eagles punched over a touchdown to beat the hard-fighting Jefferson Mustangs 7-0 in the Annual Thanksgiving Day classic played before a crowd of 15,000 at the Alamo Stadium, November 23. The game, played on a swamp-like gridiron, was a thrilling battle between Brackenridge's power and weight and Jefferson's never-say-die determination. Both teams blocked and tackled savagely. Playing their hearts out against a bigger rival, all thirteen Mustangs who saw service earned a place in Jefferson's Hall of Fame with their heroic battle in the face of great odds. Both schools can be proud of the fine sportsmanship shown by their players.

Dribbling to Glory

JANUARY 4 — In the opening game of the basketball season the Jefferson Mustangs defeated the St. Anthony Jackets 40-18 in the Jackets' gym. Milton McCaskill, as high point man, started the season off with a bang with 12 counters. JANUARY 9 — Starring Perry Gene Biles, Charlie Lutz, and Jack Jones, the Mustangs played their first 15-AA City Series game against the Tech Buffaloes. The game was a tight one, and several times the score was tied, but the Mustangs were finally victorious by a 26-24 score. JANUARY 11 — Sidney Lanier's Voks took the lead in the City Series by defeating the gallant Mustangs. Never having more than a four-point lead, Lanier rallied in the fourth quarter in which they scored eleven points. The game closed with the score 33-27 in Lanier's favor. JANUARY 19 — In their third City Series game the Mustangs went down in defeat to the powerful Brackenridge Eagles. Although the Horses never gave up and played their usual brilliant defensive game, the end of the game found them defeated 40-22. JANUARY 24 — Scoring 46-31, the Jeff Nags were victorious over the surprised Austin Maroons in a practice tilt in the Jefferson gym. Kyle Rote led the list of high scorers with twelve points. Charlie Lutz was second with seven points; McCaskill and Portwood tied for third with six points each. FEBRUARY 2 — In the series game the Austin Maroons scored a close victory over the fightin' Jeff Mustangs. At the beginning of the first quarter the score was tied 29-29, but the Maroons put up such a fight that the end of the game found the score 31-30 and the Austin team went home victorious. FEBRUARY 5 — In a close game Prairie Lea scored a 41-31 victory over the Nags. FEBRUARY 9 — Led by the sharp shoooting Milton McCaskill, the Mustangs again overpowered the Tech Buffs. The entire Jeff team played a brilliant game which resulted in their handing the Buffs an overwhelming defeat of 46-27. FEBRUARY 12 — A hard-fought game with the Brackenridge Eagles found the Eagles victorious 36-22.

15-AA TOURNAMENT

FEBRUARY 16—The Eagles in the opening game of the District 15-AA Series, took an early lead and kept the ball out of the Mustangs' hand for three-fourths of the game. Although the Eagles won with a 29-25 score, Mighty Mustang Milton McCaskill was high point man of the game with eleven tallies. On the same day a rampaging herd of Mustangs plastered a 63-20 victory over the Kerrville gridsters. FEBRUARY 17 — The gallant Mustangs were nosed out of the District Series by the strong Austin five who handed them a 45-20 defeat. It was the Maroon's ball game all the way through, but scrappy Kyle Rote of the Mustangs took point honors by scoring nine tallies. Although the 1945 Mustang Basketball Team was defeated, they met every team so valiantly they will long be remembered and honored as a heroic Jefferson team. FEBRUARY 27 — The Jeff Horses again handed the Tech Buffs a startling defeat. Scoring highest honors, Orville Wieding, with eight tallies, helped the Nags build a 27-25 defeat for the Buffs.

★ ★ Jeff's Trackster

This year the "J" Club, composed of Jeff's lettermen, sponsored an intramural track meet February 8 and 9, the purpose of this meet being to select suitable material for the coming track season. The health-ed classes proved that they could provide the best track team in the meet. According to the coaches, the meet fulfilled its purpose. In February Perry Samuels was invited to the National AAU indoor championship meet held in Madison Square garden in New York City. Very few high school boys have had this privilege, and Perry made Jefferson proud of him when he outran many college stars and was the only high school boy to place in the meet. Perry's performance was one of the highlights of the entire meet, and Jefferson is justly proud of the running "Hoss" from Dilley. Hard luck hit the Ponies in the Border Olympics on March 9, but our spirited team managed to place second. Gordon Moore and Perry Samuels were the only sprinters to place first, taking over the 880-yard dash, the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash. In the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show on March 16 and 17 the Nags were again nosed out of first place by the Brackenridge Eagles. In this meet Samuels smashed Parker's mark in the preliminary 100-yard dash and made himself outstanding by winning the 220 also. The Nags set three new records, but the 13-0 margin gained by the Birds was too much of an obstacle for the Red and Blue to overcome. Perry Samuels, the sprinting wonder, ran a 9.7 preliminary 100 to erase a mark of 9.9 set in 1925 and tilt last year by Charley Parker. The point relay team—Perry Samuels, Jack Jones, Perry Gene Biles, and William Pat Fischer—set a new standard of 44.1 seconds, and Perry Gene Biles, William Pat Fischer, Paul Carter, and Gordon Moore combined to run the mile relay in 3:31.2. At the Alamo Heights meet on March 23 the Nags won several events but again placed second with a total of $44\frac{1}{2}$ points. This was the third straight second for the Nags. "Cowboy" Samuels won the 100 and 220-yard dashes with times of 9.8 and 21.7 respectively. The 9.8 in the century tied Charley Parker's Alamo Heights record that he established in 1944. Others from Jefferson who placed first were Gordon Moore in the 880-yard-run, Joe Kern in the Pole Vault with a jump of 11, and the 440-yard relay team of Richard Guerra, Perry Gene Biles, William Pat Fischer, and Perry Samuels. The Jefferson Mustangs and Brackenridge Eagles captured six out of nine possible places in the eighteenth annual Texas Relays on April 7, the six firsts divided between the Mustangs and the Eagles. The Eagles took the Mustangs by a mere margin of $23\frac{3}{4}$ to 32. Perry Samuels whizzed the 100 in the perfect time of 9.8. Pat Fischer ran second in the 440-yard dash to the time of 50.6. The 440 relay team—Pat Fischer, Richard Guerra, Perry Gene Biles, and Perry Samuels—circled the cinder path in a new record of 43.2. Perry Samuels won the 220 in 21.5. The mile relay team of Perry Gene Biles, Pat Fischer, Gordon Moore and Garrett Guly broke a record set in 1935 with a 3:27.5 win. The Ponies stampeded an avalanche of power to trample the Birds for the city-wide championship at Alamo Stadium April 12 to the bars of 68-63 2/3 points. This victory regained the throne occupied by Jefferson for ten years out of the past fourteen. Samuels opened the offensive by blazing the 100 in 9.8. In the 440-yard dash the Ponies swept 1st, 2nd, and 3rd places; Pat Fisher and Perry Gene Biles walked away with first and second and Garrett Guly rushed in for third; Gordon Moore, and Arthur Amaya ran first and third respectively. In the 220 Perry Samuels and Pat Fischer duplicated the previous event of first and third. Charles Kneese and Paul Carter took first and second in the mile run. Joe Kern, Dean W. Plath, and Kyle Rote walked away with all the pole vault honors. Bringing to a climax a victorious meet, the Nags won the mile relay in a new time of 3:33.

On April 21, in the San Marcos Region 6 track meet, the Brackenridge Eagles were nosed out by Coach Irving's Mustangs $47\frac{1}{4}$ to 39. This meet was important in that it qualified athletes for the state meet, which was held in Austin on May 3 and 4. The fact that the San Marcos track was still wet from early morning rains did not prevent three records from being broken. The Jefferson mile relay team was responsible for the smashing of one of these records. This team, consisting of Gordon Moore, Garrett Guly, Perry Gene Biles, and Pat Fischer, cut the old record down to 3:29, winning over Austin by 50 yards. The Mustangs won more first places than the Birds, taking six to the Eagles' four. The Jefferson sprint relay, made up of Richard Guerrero, Fischer, Biles, and Samuels, won that event by two yards in 44.4 seconds. Jack Jones let the discuss fly 139 feet $10\frac{1}{4}$ inches to win that even. Gordon Moore was onother Jeff winner; he took the 880-yard run in 2:05.4. Samuels's record was, as usual, brilliant. He won the 100-yard dash in 9.7 and the 220 in 21.2. May 4 — State Track Meet in Austin! Finishing second to the Brackenridge Eagles, Jeff's Mustangs lost the State Meet by 29 to $26\frac{1}{2}$. The Mustangs were unable to overcome the Eargle's early margin. Jeff's Perry Samuels's brilliant performance was outstanding. Writing finis to a notable high school career, Samuels won the 100-yard dash in 9.6, only 1/10 of a second off the 1943 and 1944 record of Charlie Parker. The flying dashman then won the 220-yard dash in 22. Then to cap a brilliant day, Samuels anchored the 440-yard relay. These victories made Samuels the high point man of the meet; he scored $11\frac{1}{4}$ tallies. Guly, Fischer, Biles, and Moore won the mile relay for Jeff in 2:25.8. The Mustangs' 440-yard relay team of Guerrero, Fischer, Biles, and Samuels won in the time of 43.7. Again our cinder path boys finished gloriously, a record almost as great as last year's victorious margin of $31\frac{1}{2}$ for Jefferson to 28 for Brackenridge; this was the largest total ever scored in the state meet since 1910. The Jeff Mustangs have won the state meet two out of four years, losing in 1943 by only a fraction of a point.

Outside Bilibid Prison

Dear Joe and Judy Jefferson,

Here in this horrible prison I hoped, I thought, I dreamed of peace, of coming back to my home, to my job. I dreamed of a day when my eyes no longer would have to watch a red sun rising over Bilibid, when men who have suffered, bled, and died for America would be avenged. Not until the enemy has been engulfed, smothered, and beaten into the ground, stripped of his guns and ships, his will to hate and his wish to kill utterly crushed will I come back. Only when this war is won will I come home. * * * Today tears spilled over the lids of my eyes and I stiffened my lips as I stood side by side with the great MacArthur, proudly saluting the flag which now more than ever is the symbol of liberty, security, and opportunity. Never was there a time when I felt such strong emotions. I stood there unable to take my eyes off my beloved flag, the sacred banner that I had not even seen for three long years. It was then that I thought of dear old Jefferson with the flag silhouetted against the sky, the dome a shining background, the sweet notes of the bugle holding us silent and still all up and down that long rosebordered walk. Today one of our liberators, a '44 graduate of Jefferson, told me that our school now flies the Treasury flag. What an intense feeling of patriotism, of pride, that must give you! Keep it flying, Joe and Judy; don't relax your vigilance for a single moment. * * * For every drop of American blood spilled, for every heart broken, for every tear shed, for every ship sunk, for every plane destroyed, they'll pay with ten, twenty, even more, of their own, so that the freedom we want, the future we want, the country we want, will still be there when we return. Play well your part, Joe and Judy, in keeping America the same great land that it was when I last saw it soon after that never-to-be-forgotten December seventh of 1941.

The ancient love of man for

Home Sweet Home

The ancient love of man for his shelter has gone down into song and story from ages that are now dim with the dusk of the past.

The home that holds for woman all the treasures of her mind and her heart must continue to be the guiding star of the Wise Men of the future.

We will be glad to furnish suggestions and ideas that would be helpful in the planning of a home of your own, without obligation, of course.

We Congratulate

the Staff of 1945 and their sponsor on the beautiful completion of a difficult task. In compiling and publishing the 1945 Monticello, you have proved your willingness to shoulder responsibility and discharge it with courage and enthusiasm. This is the spirit that will carry you through the years victoriously.

It has been a pleasure, students of Jefferson, to be associated with you in this school project. We hope to continue this association with each of you, personally. Depend on us for your photographic needs, all through life. You will find us eager to serve you.
